of the community, the growth and development of the area as a metropolitan area, and that no time or expense be spared to bring the matter forcibly to the attention of the entire Legislature that SMOG is the paramount problem of the City of Los Angeles."

Respectfully yours,

I HEREBY CERTIFY the foregoing to be a true and correct copy of the action taken by the Council of the City of Los Angeles at its meeting held March 9, 1959.

WHEREAS, Mr. Robert M. Wieland served in the United States Navy from 1943 to 1945 as a Gunner's Mate 3/c and is presently a member of the American Radio Relay League and an active member in Sonora Civil Defense; and

WHEREAS, At 1.30 in the morning on February 16, 1958, when returning to his headquarters in a company jeep after clearing a case of trouble, Mr. Wieland saw the main building of an isolated winter resort in flames; he stopped his jeep and swung its headlights on the building; and a car parked in front indicated that there might be people inside; and

WHEREAS, He ran quickly to the rear door and pounded and yelled to arouse the occupants; failing to get an answer, he ran to the front and continued his efforts; finally he roused the owner, Mr. Jack C. Dill, who with his wife had been sleeping in the attic of the third-story building; both were close to asphyxiation; their 18 year-old son was asleep in the basement; while Mr. Wieland, with the aid of his flashlight, led Mrs. Dill through the smoke to safety, the owner went to rouse the son; and

WHEREAS, With all the occupants safe, the men went to work extinguishing the flames; the only source of water was a 100 gallon tank on the roof; while the senior Mr. Dill played a hose on the outside of the building, Mr. Wieland used a bucket to fight the flames on the inside; and eventually the fire was extinguished; and

The following communication was received and read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE CAPITOL, SACRAMENTO, March 13, 1959

Hon. Glenn M. Anderson, Lieutenant Governor

State Capitol, Sacramento, California

Absence of the Governor—No. 10235

DEAR GOVERNOR ANDERSON: You have asked two questions concerning the powers and duties of the Lieutenant Governor during the absence of the Governor from the State. You asked whether, during such a period, there is any legal objection to the Lieutenant Governor continuing to perform his duties as President of the Senate and whether as acting Governor he can also sign or veto a bill which he has authenticated as presiding officer as having been passed.

Opinion No. 1

While the matter is not absolutely certain, we think that there is no legal objection to the Lieutenant Governor continuing to act as President of the Senate during the time the Governor is absent from the State. Despite our opinion on this point, however, we think it would be preferable for the Lieutenant Governor to avoid acting in both capacities during such a period.

The California courts have not had occasion to pass upon the question which is presented. In People v. Budd (1896) 114 Cal. 168, during the time Section 16 of Article V of the Constitution provided that the powers and duties of the Office of Governor "shall devolve upon the Lieutenant Governor" in the event of the death of the Governor, the court said:

"It will be seen that in case of a vacancy in the Office of Governor the vacancy is not to be filled, but the powers and duties devolve upon the Lieutenant Governor, who does not cease to be Lieutenant Governor."

The question in this case, however, did not involve the death or absence of the Governor; thus, the quoted language is dictum and not a square holding on the point. In 1948 a constitutional amendment was adopted by the people which makes it clear that the Lieutenant Governor becomes the Governor in the event of a vacancy in the Office of Governor (Art. V, Sec. 16), but the language of that section remained unchanged insofar as the Governor's absence from the State is concerned. Consequently, during the Governor's absence, "the powers and duties of the Office of Governor devolve" upon the Lieutenant Governor. Under these circumstances we think the court would follow the language of the Budd case, would hold that there is no vacancy in the Office of Governor and would hold that the duties of that office merely devolve upon the Lieutenant Governor, who continues to occupy the Office of Lieutenant Governor. Under similar constitutional provisions a number of courts have held that the duties of the Governor are simply added to those of the Lieutenant Governor, or other officer upon whom the duties devolve, and that such officer continues to hold the secondary office upon which the duties have devolved. (State ex rel. Hardin v. Sadler (Nev. 1897) 47 Pac. 450; Clifford v. Heller (1899) 63 N. J. Law 105, 42 Atl. 155; Futtrell v. Oldham (1913) 107 Ark. 386, 155 S.W. 502; State v. McBride (Wash. 1902) 70 Pac. 25; State v. Garvey (1948) 67 Ariz. 304; 195 Pac. 2d 153; State v. Mitchell (Mont. 1934) 34 Pac. 2d 369; People v. Cornforth (Colo. 1905) 81 Pac. 871).¹ In the Clifford, Futtrell and Cornforth cases, supra, the courts held that the resignation of, or defeat for, the secondary office upon which the duties of Governor meant that the displaced officer could no longer exercise the powers and duties of Governor.

Since the Lieutenant Governor continues to hold that office during the Governor's absence, the question is whether there is any inconsistency with respect to presiding over the Senate) arising from the fact that "the supreme executive power of the State," ordinarily vested in the Governor (Const., Art. V, Sec. 1), has devolved upon him. The problem can be emphasized by consideration of the language of Article III, Section 1, of the Constitution which states that no person properly charged with the exercise of powers properly belonging to one of these departments (that is, the legislative, executive or judicial) shall exercise any powers appertaining to either of the others. In this instance, of course, the whole executive power of the State has devolved upon the Lieutenant Governor, and yet he has important legislative functions in presiding over the Senate. Not only does he regulate the course of procedure in the Senate by virtue of his office as president, but he has the casting vote in the event of a tie (Const., Art. V, Sec. 15). It is entirely possible, in such a case, that the Lieutenant Governor might cast the deciding vote in the Senate, might certify to the bill's passage, and then might sign it as acting Governor. Or, if he vetoed the bill as acting Governor, he might have the obligation of presiding over the consideration of his veto as presiding officer of the Senate and the duty of signing a certificate as to whether the bill has been passed over his veto (Gov. C. Sec. 9513). The inconsistency involved in one person's assuming all of these duties is apparent, but the question remains whether there is any legal prohibition against his doing so.

Upon prior occasions this office has advised Lieutenant Governors that it would be desirable for them to refrain from acting as Presidents of the Senate during the time the duties of the office of Governor had devolved upon them, and, insofar as we know, no Lieutenant Governor has presided over the Senate during such a period. This procedure would avoid all question on the matter, but if the point should arise, we incline to the view that the courts would sustain the action taken. This opinion is based upon such cases as the Clifford case, supra, in which the court considered the inconsistencies mentioned above in relation to the separation of powers clause. The court said (42 Atl. 155, at 157):

"The President of the Senate exercises the powers of the Governor; the President of the Senate performs the duties of the Governor; the President of the Senate receives the emoluments of that office. He is still President of the Senate, with the added duties required of the chief executive of the State imposed upon him. . . . He retains his office of senator; and as President of the Senate, and not as Governor, he exercises the added powers and performs the superimposed duties."

The court pointed out that the New Jersey separation of powers clause itself indicated that the Constitution might create exceptions to its provisions (as does the California separation of powers clause), and held that one of the exceptions was the one in which the president of the senate exercised both legislative and executive functions.² Similarly, although the separation of powers problem was not involved, the court in State v. Grant (Wyo. 1903) 73 Pac. 470, overruled the contention that there was any incompatibility of office involved in the Secretary of State's acting both in that capacity and as Governor. The court said (at page 472):

"During that period all the powers of the Governor and all the duties of that responsible office will devolve upon him. He cannot escape them any more than one regularly chosen to the office. In the meantime he has all the powers, and is subject to all the responsibilities, attaching to the office of Secretary of State."

One further consideration may be mentioned. The same clause which has the effect of devolving the duties of Governor upon the Lieutenant Governor would devolve those duties upon the President pro Tempore of the Senate, if the Governor were to die and the Lieutenant Governor to be temporarily absent from the State (Const., Art. V, Sec. 16). Under these circumstances, if it were held that the President pro Tempore could not act as a Senator during the time the duties of Governor had devolved upon him, the people by whom he was elected would be deprived of representation for that period by the absence of the Lieutenant Governor (Compare, Clifford Case, Supra, page 158).

For these reasons, we think that the courts would sustain action taken by the Lieutenant Governor, in his capacity as President of the Senate, during the period that the duties of Governor have devolved upon him by reason of the Governor's absence from the State. It continues to be our opinion, however, that the Lieutenant Governor would be well advised to refrain from acting as President of the Senate during the time the duties of Governor have devolved upon him.

Opinion No. 2

We do not believe that there is any legal reason why the Lieutenant Governor cannot sign or veto a bill when he is acting Governor that he had previously authenticated in his capacity as President of the Senate. This is particularly true as to bills that were authenticated by him prior to his assuming the duties of the Governor as otherwise he would be prevented from exercising all of the powers of the Governor with respect to such legislation.

Analysis No. 2

We find nothing in the Constitution of this State with reference to authentication of passage of bills, and Section 9507 of the Government Code provides only for authentication by the "proper officers."

Joint Rule 24 provides that the enrolled bill shall be signed by the presiding officers of both houses and the Secretary of the Senate and Chief Clerk of the Assembly. Senate Standing Rule No. 33 provides for such authentication by the signatures of the President or President pro Tempore of the Senate. Where a presiding officer is required to sign the bill to authenticate its passage, the act of signing is simply ministerial and not an exercise of legislative discretion and mandamus will lie to compel its performance (Mason's Manual, Sec. 575 and cases cited in footnote thereto).

Under the provisions of our Constitution and statutes (Const., Sees. 16 and 32, Art. IV, and Gov. C. Sec. 9508 et seq.), when a bill is presented to the Governor he may sign it or let it become law without his signature, or he may veto it or reduce or eliminate any item of appropriation in the bill. We do not believe that the courts of this State would hold that the powers of the Lieutenant Governor when acting as Governor are in any way restricted in this respect by reason of the fact that his signature appears on a bill authenticating its passage.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS,
Legislative Counsel

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF WATER RESOURCES
CALIFORNIA WATER COMMISSION
SACRAMENTO, March 18, 1959

*Hon. J. A. Beek, Secretary of the Senate
State Capitol, Sacramento, California*

DEAR MR. BEEK: Transmitted for the information of the Senate are five copies of Resolution No. 56 of the California Water Commission regarding flood plain zoning.

The need for this study arises from a lack of factual information on which to base a decision as to the need of flood plain zoning in connection with flood control projects.

Very truly yours,

ARNOLD FREW, Chairman
By WILLIAM M. CARRAH, Executive Secretary

Enc.

Resolution No. 56 of the California Water Commission Relative to flood plain zoning

WHEREAS, During the past year, the subject of flood plain zoning, as an adjunct to, or an integral part of flood control projects, has come to the attention of the California Water Commission from time to time; and

WHEREAS, This matter has been the subject of several hearings conducted by the commission, in particular with reference to the Chico Landing to Red Bluff bank protection project authorized for construction by the United States Army Corps of Engineers; and

WHEREAS, Testimony before the commission and studies presented to date indicate conclusively that there is no agreement among interested parties as to the form or scope that such flood plain zoning should take, or the role of flood plain zoning in a project plan; and that there is a definite lack of facts on which to base a sound decision on the subject; so now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the State Legislature be respectfully requested to authorize a study of this entire matter by an appropriate agency of the State, and that in connection therewith, the Legislature authorize an interim committee study of flood plain zoning, so that proper consideration may be given the subject at the next session of the Legislature; and be it Further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Governor, the Legislature, interested executive agencies of the State, and affected local entities and individuals.

The foregoing resolution was adopted by the California Water Commission, State of California, at Sacramento, on March 6, 1959.

Senate Resolution No. 62

Relative to the Trussell-Winchester Adobe

WHEREAS, On October 12, 1957, the California State Park Commission, in co-operation with the Santa Barbara Historical Society, dedicated the Trussell-Winchester Adobe, located at 412 West Montecito Street in Santa Barbara, as Historical Landmark No. 559; and

WHEREAS, The Trussell-Winchester Adobe was built in 1854 by a retired sea captain, Captain Horatio Gates Trussell of Orland, Maine, and was partially constructed of material from the wreck of the noble ship S. S. Winfield Scott on Anacapa Island; and

WHEREAS, The charming adobe, set in its beautiful garden, was acquired by the Winchester family in 1882 and was, to our good fortune, bequeathed in 1955 to the Santa Barbara Historical Society by Catherine Bagg Hastings, the niece of Miss Sarah Winchester; and

WHEREAS, The Trussell-Winchester Adobe during its many years of service as a home has housed or been owned by people and families such as Horatio and Ramona Trussell, seven of whose ten children were born in the adobe, and Mr. Herman Eddy, one of the founders of the Santa Barbara County National Bank, Sarah Winchester, pioneer Santa Barbara school teacher and daughter of Uriah Winchester, another New Englander who in 1869 settled at what is still known as Winchester Canyon beyond Goleta, and Walter Fulton Winchester, a surgeon with the Union forces in the Civil War, present at Appomattox when Lee surrendered, Charlotte Bagg, and her daughter, Catherine, Mrs. John Russel Hastings, who in her great generosity left the adobe by will to the Santa Barbara Historical Society; and

WHEREAS, Miss Maria Trussell, Mr. Rufus Trussell, Mr. Sherman Bagg, Mrs. Barbara Bagg McDonald, Mrs. Elizabeth Bagg von Rossler, descendants of those who made the Winchester Adobe their home, were present at the dedication of this historic monument to one of the periods of our colorful and rich past and to some of the intrepid pioneers of the State; and

WHEREAS, Many historic and romantic tales can be related as to those who have resided in the historic adobe, such as the story of Miss Sarah Winchester's brother, Dr. Robert Fulton Winchester, who came west as the personal physician of Col. W. W. Hollister and who was a leader of two expeditions to Cocos Island in search of buried treasure; and

WHEREAS, The preservation of the Trussell-Winchester Adobe, made possible by the generosity of Catherine Bagg Hastings, is indeed a significant event. As was stated by the various speakers at the dedication of the adobe, it is important to preserve physical remembrances of the significant past that we in California are fortunate to have, and indeed such preservation becomes even more important as the State grows so rapidly and thereby so frequently destroys fascinating remnants of our past in the wake of its growth; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Members of the Senate pay tribute to the late Catherine Bagg Hastings for her generosity in making possible, in part, the preservation of this significant monument to the history of California and the West, and further, commend the Santa Barbara Historical Society and the others who have contributed to the successful preservation and restoration of the Trussell-Winchester Adobe as a landmark to our past; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to transmit suitably prepared copies of this resolution to Miss Maria Trussell, Mr. Rufus Trussell, and Mr. Sherman Bagg; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to transmit a suitably prepared copy of this resolution to the Santa Barbara Historical Society, to be mounted in an appropriate place within the Trussell-Winchester Adobe.

Resolution read, and referred to Committee on Natural Resources.

WHEREAS, Our dairy and milk plant inspection standards and regulations are rated among the highest in the United States; and

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication was received and read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE
STATE CAPITOL, SACRAMENTO, March 13, 1959

Hon. Glenn M. Anderson
President of the Senate

Hon. Ralph M. Brown
Speaker of the Assembly

GENTLEMEN: Pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 1573, Statutes of 1951, the Department of Finance submits herewith its annual report to the Legislature on surplus state-owned lands.

On August 27, 1958, the Department of Finance sent instructions to all land-holding state agencies under the subject "Annual Inventory and Report of Excessive State Lands." These instructions read in part as follows:

"Government Code Section 11011 requires all state agencies to submit an annual report of lands that are in excess of foreseeable needs.

"Each agency should make a thorough review of the state lands under its jurisdiction and submit a written statement that all lands owned by the agency have been checked. The statement should also list those lands that are excess, or should state that there are no excess lands."

In response to the above, 10 parcels comprising approximately 493 acres have been submitted by various agencies as being surplus to their foreseeable needs. These properties have an estimated value of $1,500,000 and are described in detail in the body of this report. It is recommended that legislation to sell, exchange, or otherwise dispose of these parcels be enacted at the 1959 Session. The Department of Finance has caused Senate Bill No. 589 to be introduced for this purpose.

Since the beginning of the surplus property program established by Chapter 1573, the Department of Finance has sold approximately 1,996 acres of property under specific legislative authority and the property returned to the local tax rolls, with the exception of a few parcels that were sold to property tax-exempt agencies, such as local municipalities. The total revenue received by the State as a result of these sales has amounted to $2,161,090. Supplement "A" to this report describes in detail those properties disposed of during the period 1957-58 for a total consideration of $266,590.

Not directly related to the surplus property program were several transactions negotiated by the Property Acquisition Division of this department. These transactions involved the transfer of surplus properties between state agencies. Supplement "B" describes in detail such transfers.

Presently held as surplus by the Department of Finance but not yet sold are properties valued at approximately $4,235,910. The current status of these lands is shown in Supplement "C" of this report.

Yours very truly,

BERT W. LEVIT, Director of Finance

PART 1.5. EXTENDED DURATION UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION BENEFITS

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

2201. It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this part to provide relief where a hard core of unemployment results from automation, and to provide for cushioning the shock and tensions for the worker unemployed because of technological changes in industrial production or by reason of a changing pattern of defense industry; to provide a means and incentive to workers who are unemployed because of such factors to undergo retraining to acquire new skills to replace those no longer marketable.

To accomplish such purposes it is intended to provide a means of extending the benefits of unemployment compensation to persons who have exhausted their normal benefits when unemployment by reason of such causes reaches a critical statewide ratio, but also to individual workers laid off from plants and complex of plants wherever they are, regardless of the statewide unemployment ratio.

2202. (a) Except as otherwise provided, the provisions and definitions of Part 1 of this division apply to this part. In case of any conflict between the provisions of Part 1 and the provisions of this part, the provisions of this part shall prevail with respect to extended duration unemployment compensation benefits.

(b) Except as otherwise provided, subdivision (d) of Section 1253, and Sections 1254, 1277, 1281, 1327, 1328, 1329, 1330, and 1331 do not apply to this part.

(c) The provisions of Part 2 of this division do not apply to this part.

2203. As used in this part:

(a) "Extended duration benefits" means the unemployment compensation benefits payable for periods of extended duration under this part.

(b) "Normal benefits" means the unemployment compensation benefits payable under Part 1 of this division.

(c) "Exhaustee" means an individual who is not entitled to normal benefits due to either of the following:

(1) He has an unexpired benefit year and has exhausted his normal benefits.

(2) His most recent benefit year expired in the state-extended duration quarter or individual extended duration quarter in which he files a primary claim or in the immediately preceding calendar quarter and he is not entitled to establish a benefit year for normal benefits.

(d) "State extension ratio" means the ratio for a calendar quarter computed during that quarter by dividing:

(1) The average number of weeks of unemployment claimed in California per week during the calendar quarter preceding the date of the computation, excluding weeks of unemployment claimed in connection with unemployment compensation programs which are exclusively federal; by

(2) The average mid-monthly covered employment reported by employers for the last four completed calendar quarters immediately preceding the date of the computation for which an official tabulation has been completed by the department.

(f) "Individual extended duration quarter" means a calendar quarter determined pursuant to Section 2208 during which extended duration benefits are payable to individuals in connection with a plant and complex.

2208. After 90 days of the date of any layoff required to be reported under Section 2207 the director may, or upon the written application of a Member of the Legislature, an employer, chamber of commerce, board of trade, labor organization, or any civic, commercial, mercantile, traffic, agricultural, or manufacturing association or organization, or any public or municipal corporation, shall within 30 days verify the unemployment ratio in the plant and complex, and if he finds the unemployment ratio to be 2 percent or more of the average unemployment in the corresponding quarter of the preceding two-year period, he shall proclaim an extended duration quarter for workers of the plant and complex affected by the layoff wherever they are.

2209. Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, no payment of extended duration benefits shall be made to any individual for any week or part of any week with respect to which he is entitled to receive unemployment compensation benefits as a result of participation by this State pursuant to the provisions of any federal law providing for the payment of such benefits.

CHAPTER 2. EXTENDED DURATION BENEFITS

Article 1. Eligibility and Disqualifications

2215. Extended duration benefits are payable from the Unemployment Fund to unemployed individuals who are eligible under this part.

2216. An unemployed individual is eligible to receive extended duration benefits with respect to any week only if the director finds that:

(a) An extended duration award has been established for him.

(b) The week is within the extended duration period of the award.

(c) He meets the eligibility requirements of Part 1 of this division, except those excluded under subdivision (b) of Section 2202.

(d) He is not subject to disqualification, and is not under disqualification for normal benefits, under any provision of Part 1 of this division.

2217. The filing of a valid primary claim by an exhaustee shall constitute an election by him to claim extended duration benefits to the exclusion of filing a new claim for normal benefits for any week of unemployment subsequent to the filing of such primary claim for which extended duration benefits are payable to him.

2218. Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, a claimant otherwise eligible for unemployment compensation benefits or extended duration benefits shall not be disqualified from the receipt thereof by reason of the fact that he is enrolled in a retraining program approved by the director.

Article 2. Computation (Amount and Duration)

2225. An exhaustee's weekly benefit amount under an extended duration award shall be the same as his weekly benefit amount for the parent benefit year.

2227. Only one extended duration award may be established for an exhaustee based on any one parent benefit year.

Article 3. Filing, Determination, and Payment of Extended Duration Benefit Claims 2235. Claims for extended duration benefits shall be made as provided in this article.

2236. An exhaustee who desires to claim extended duration benefits shall file a valid primary claim. A primary claim for extended duration benefits shall be valid only if its effective date is within a state-extended duration quarter or an individual extended duration quarter and the individual filing it is an unemployed exhaustee.

2238. A notice of the filing of a primary claim or an additional claim shall be given to the employing unit by which the exhaustee was last employed immediately preceding the filing of such claim, but only if such employing unit has not previously been given a notice with respect to that last employment pursuant to Section 1327. The employing unit so notified shall submit within 10 days after the mailing of such notice any facts then known which may affect the exhaustee's eligibility for extended duration benefits. The 10 day period may be extended for good cause. If after such 10-day period the employing unit acquires knowledge of facts which may affect the eligibility of the exhaustee and such facts could not reasonably have been known within the period, the employing unit shall within 10 days of acquiring such knowledge submit such facts to the department.

2239. The facts submitted by an employer pursuant to Section 2238 shall be considered and a determination made as to the exhaustee's eligibility for extended duration benefits. The exhaustee and any employer who prior to the determination has submitted any facts pursuant to Section 2238 shall be promptly notified of the determination and the reasons therefor and may appeal therefrom to a referee within 10 days from mailing or personal service of notice of the determination. The 10-day period may be extended for good cause.

2240. Upon the filing of a valid primary claim by an exhaustee, an extended duration award computation shall promptly be made, which shall set forth the maximum amount of extended duration benefits potentially payable during the extended duration period, the weekly benefit amount, and the expiration date of the extended duration period. The exhaustee shall be promptly notified of the computation. He may, within 10 days after the mailing of personal service of the notice of computation, protest its accuracy. Any such protest shall be considered and a determination made as to the accuracy of the computation. The exhaustee shall be promptly notified of the determination and may appeal therefrom in the manner provided in Section 2239.

Article 4. Reserve Accounts

2251. (a) Any employer who is entitled under Section 2238 to notice of the filing of a primary claim or additional claim and who, within 10 days after mailing of such notice, submits to the department any facts within its possession disclosing whether the exhaustee left the most recent employment with such employer voluntarily and without good cause or was discharged from such employment for misconduct connected with his work shall be entitled to a ruling as prescribed by this section.

(b) The department shall consider such facts together with any information in its possession and promptly issue to the employer its ruling as to the cause of the termination of the exhaustee's most recent employment. Appeals may be taken from said rulings in the manner provided in Section 2239.

(c) Rulings under this section shall have the effect prescribed by Section 1032. 2252. Extended duration benefits shall not be charged to any employer's account. 2253. Additional contributions required to be paid by an employer pursuant to the provisions of this part shall not be credited to any employer's account.

CHAPTER 3. ADDITIONAL CONTRIBUTIONS

2275. Every employer shall pay into the Unemployment Fund additional contributions upon all wages paid on and after October 1, 1959, with respect to employment at the rate of .25 percent. This rate of contribution shall be in addition to the rate otherwise payable by an employer pursuant to Sections 978 or 979.

SEC. 2. Section 1252.5 is added to said code, to read:

SECOND READING OF SENATE BILLS (OUT OF ORDER)

Senate Bill No. 515—An act to add Sections 2020.003, 3084.05, and 4604.5 to, and to repeal Section 4576 of, the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to medical services to public assistance recipients.

Bill read second time.

Motion to Amend

Senator Gibson moved the adoption of the following amendments:

Amendment No. 1

On page 1 of the printed bill, as amended in Senate March 4, 1959, strike out line 1, and insert

"SECTION 1. The intent of this act is to simplify the administration of the medical care program as provided by Chapter 1 of Part 3 of Division 5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and to extend to public assistance recipients authorized to receive care under that chapter the full amount of medical care which can be obtained by the funds made available for such purpose by that chapter and the special need provisions of each of the public assistance programs set forth in Section 4501 of that chapter.

It is not the intent of this act to increase the total amount of public funds authorized for expenditure by the public assistance laws which apply upon the effective date of this act. The sole purpose of this act is to provide a plan which eliminates costly recordkeeping and separate case determinations which must now precede the determination of the fund source from which payment is to be made for medical services received by public assistance recipients.

SEC. 2. Section 2020.003 is added to said code, to read:

2020.003. The county shall pay monthly into the County Medical Care Revolving Fund, established by Section 4604.5 of this code, on behalf of each recipient to whom the county pays aid under this chapter, an amount to be determined by the State Department of Social Welfare on the basis of the statewide average amount of income or supplemental aid under Section 2020.002 available to recipients to pay for medical care services within the policies and scope of services established pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing at Section 4500) of Part 3 of Division 5 of this code.

The department shall determine the rate of payment under this section on the basis of a caseload sample. The sample shall be selected to reflect accurately the amount of grant which would have been paid to recipients for medical care if such care had been financed by payments to recipients under this chapter. The rate of payment shall be reviewed upon the expiration of each six-months' period or upon a change in the scope of services under Chapter 1 (commencing at Section 4500) of Part 3 of Division 5 of this code, whichever occurs first. Where the facts indicate the necessity therefore, a new rate shall be established. The sampling methods used by the department pursuant to this section, and the rates of payment derived therefrom, shall be subject to review by and the approval of the State Department of Finance before such rates of payment are put into effect.

No item of medical care for which payment may be made on behalf of a recipient under Chapter 1 (commencing at Section 4500) of Part 3 of Division 5 of this code shall be considered a special need under this chapter.

Payments made by a county into the County Medical Care Revolving Fund under this section shall be considered payments of aid made pursuant to this chapter for purposes of county claims for reimbursement under Sections 2187 through 2189 of this code.

SEC. 3. Section 3084.05 is added to said code, to read:

3084.05. The county shall pay monthly into the county medical care revolving fund, established by Section 1604.5 of this code, on behalf of each recipient to whom the county pays aid under this chapter, an amount to be determined by the State Department of Social Welfare on the basis of the statewide average amount of income under Section 3084 available to recipients to pay for medical care services within the policies and scope of services established pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing at Section 4500) of Part 3 of Division 5 of this code.

The department shall determine the rate of payment under this section on the basis of a case load sample. The sample shall be selected to reflect accurately the amount of grant which would have been paid to recipients for medical care if such care had been financed by payments to recipients under this chapter. The rate of payment shall be reviewed upon the expiration of each six-months' period or upon a change in the scope of services under Chapter 1 (commencing at Section 4500) of Part 3 of Division 5 of this code, whichever occurs first. Where the facts indicate the necessity therefore, a new rate shall be established. The sampling methods used by the department pursuant to this section, and the rates of payment derived therefrom, shall be subject to review by and the approval of the State Department of Finance before such rates of payment are put into effect.

No item of medical care for which payment may be made on behalf of a recipient under Chapter 1 (commencing at Section 4500) of Part 3 of Division 5 of this code shall be considered a special need under this chapter.

Payments made by a county into the county medical care revolving fund under this section shall be considered payments of aid made pursuant to this chapter for purposes of county claims for reimbursement under Sections 3083 through 3083.3 of this code."

The following resolutions were offered:

By Senator Thompson:

Senate Resolution No. 66

Relative to commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of radio broadcasting

WHEREAS, The year 1959 marks the fiftieth anniversary of radio broadcasting, and is an occasion of special significance to the citizens of California, to be appropriately commemorated in San Jose and San Francisco by festivities and dedicatory ceremonies on April 2d and 3d; and

WHEREAS, Radio broadcasting had its birth in San Jose, California, where the first radio broadcasting station in the world was established in 1909, and that station with a broadcasting area of a few miles and an audience of listeners equipped with crystal sets developed into Radio Station KQW, and still later, Station KCBS with millions of listeners throughout Northern California; and

WHEREAS, The concept of radio broadcasting to a general public listening audience, in contrast to the use of radio as a means of communication between two geographical points, was first put into practice by the scientist, Dr. Charles David Herrold, who may rightfully be termed "The Father of Broadcasting"; and

WHEREAS, Those first broadcasts were among the most exciting events of the period and represented the beginnings of a great industry, and of a cultural medium which has become a part of the lives of everyone; and

WHEREAS, The compilation of the historical facts and data concerning the establishment of the first radio station in San Jose was the result of extensive research by Mr. Gordon Greb, Professor of Journalism at San Jose State College, who is chiefly responsible for ascertaining the date of establishment of Charles David Herrold's station; and

WHEREAS, The many festivities planned to commemorate the event will include the placing of a plaque at the site of Dr. Herrold's first station in San Jose, parades, special broadcasts by Station KCBS recalling the times and the beginnings of its predecessor station, as well as numerous other activities; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the members, by this resolution, join in the commemoration of the establishment of the first radio broadcasting station and the fiftieth anniversary of broadcasting; and extend congratulations and best wishes on the occasion to the management and personnel of Station KCBS; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to transmit suitably prepared copies of this resolution to Mr. Maurie Webster, general manager of KCBS, the San Jose Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. Clyde Arbuckle, the county historian.

Resolution read, and unanimously adopted on motion of Senator Thompson.

By Senator Arnold:

Senate Resolution No. 67

Relative to a waterfowl management area near Dorris, Modoc County

WHEREAS, The population of this State is constantly increasing and yet less and less area is available for outdoor recreational and hunting activities for this population; and

WHEREAS, Today many hunters find it most difficult, if not impossible, to find areas on which to hunt migratory waterfowl; and

WHEREAS, The ever-increasing use of land for industrial and agricultural development has seriously endangered the future of migratory waterfowl on the Pacific flyway by decreasing the areas available for nesting and breeding and also limiting the area available for resting in their southern migration; and

WHEREAS, The Department of Fish and Game through co-operation with the Federal Government and its Fish and Wildlife Service has been able to meet these problems by the creation of waterfowl management and shooting areas which not only give hunters an excellent opportunity to enjoy this sport but also provide much needed areas for proper management of the waterfowl resources; and

WHEREAS, The United States Fish and Wildlife Service has proposed to purchase 6,000 acres of land in the Dorris area of Modoc County for such a waterfowl management and shooting area but such proposal must be approved by the California Fish and Game Commission as to the maintenance and operation of the area by the Department of Fish and Game; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the California Fish and Game Commission is requested to approve this needed project for a waterfowl management and shooting area at its April 3d meeting; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to transmit a copy of this resolution to the Fish and Game Commission.

Resolution read, and referred to Committee on Rules.

By Senator Regan:

Senate Resolution No. 68

Relative to the State Water Rights Board

WHEREAS, The State Water Rights Board, in administering the laws relating to the appropriation of water, makes various determinations, decisions, and orders which are subject to judicial review by means of writ of mandate; and

WHEREAS, In addition to acting upon testimony and evidence received at hearings held by the board, the board must consider innumerable documents; and

WHEREAS, The presentation of evidence before the board is made difficult by this and other practices of the board in view of the fact that its procedure has not been sufficiently well-defined; and

WHEREAS, There is an urgent need for a study of the procedure of the board in making its determinations, decisions, and orders, and the scope and procedure for judicial review thereof; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Senate Interim Committee on Judiciary created at this Session of the Legislature or a Joint Committee on Judiciary created at this session, be directed to investigate the subject expressed in this resolution and to ascertain, study, and analyze all facts relative thereto, and to report the results of its investigation to the Legislature at the 1961 Regular Session thereof.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

SENATE CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, March 26, 1959

Hon. Glenn M. Anderson, President and Members of the Senate

GENTLEMEN: Pursuant to Senate Resolution No. 187 of the 1957 General Session, your Interim Committee on Subdivision Development and Planning transmits herewith its Subdivision Manual.

Subdivision development is a vital force in the explosive growth and expansion of our State. The subdivision industry has met the unparalleled challenge of providing shelter for the greatest voluntary mass migration in history.

Subdivision development plays a far greater part in the economy of California than appears on the surface. It creates a chain reaction of causes and effects which reaches clear to the top levels of our economic structure. It stimulates the production, distribution and sale of all types of building materials and its effect is inherent in the sale of many consumer items, such as home furnishings and appliances.

This Subdivision Manual was prepared by the 88 members of our advisory committee who are the leaders in the subdivision field in the State of California. Never before in our history has there been assembled such an aggregate of talent, expert knowledge and vast experience in the many facets of subdivision development. Their deliberations and toil have brought forth this manual—the first of its kind in the Nation.

The manual will be of great assistance to planning commissions, city councils, supervisors, land developers, and all others who are concerned with the subdivision process. It is an important step in developing a smoother working relationship and better understanding between local officials and developers.

There is need for a continuing program of consultation and education to insure closer co-operation and co-ordination among the various levels of government and between subdividers and government.

The leaders in subdivision development, private and governmental, should gather periodically to discuss the current problems facing the industry and to consider constructive solutions. Such a continuing program could be best effected through the establishment of an institute or a series of annual conferences on subdivision development and planning at the University of California. Sounder community growth and better subdivisions would be the result.

Respectfully submitted,

ARTHUR H. BREED, JR., Chairman
LUTHER E. GIBSON, Vice Chairman
ROBERT I. MCCARTHY

RICHARD RICHARDS
JOHN F. THOMPSON

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions were offered:

By Senator Beard:

Senate Resolution No. 69

Relating to the commendation of Mr. Danny Danenberg

WHEREAS, The lettuce industry in Imperial and Riverside Counties has experienced a successful marketing season under adverse circumstances; and

WHEREAS, A great deal of the credit must be ascribed to the enactment of a self-imposed regional marketing order; and

WHEREAS, The success of the marketing order is due in large part to the unstinting efforts of Mr. Danny Danenberg, the long hours he spent in talking to many people and the energy he exerted in undertaking the task of convincing his fellow lettuce-growers that the marketing order represented sound business policy; and

WHEREAS, To achieve this most worthy end Mr. Danenberg was forced to expend his own money, neglect his family and accept with patience and humility the scorn and veiled insults of those who were not willing to be convinced that what he was trying to do was the right and proper thing; and

WHEREAS, Day after day, in spite of the bleak outlook, Danny struggled on, never losing confidence in himself and the work he was doing and, sticking to his ideals, he finally won the hard battle; and

WHEREAS, These herculean efforts were successful in convincing a group of lettuce-growers and shippers, men imbued with the American farmer's traditional spirit of rugged independence, that they should give up, in the interest of the industry, some of their highly prized individual rights to ship their crops and, instead, to delegate to their competitors a voice in deciding how much and when they could harvest; and

WHEREAS, Without the tireless work of Danney Danenberg it is almost certain that the estimated ten-million-dollar lettuce crop in the Imperial Valley for this season would have shown a very large deficit to everyone concerned; but his leadership and his sacrifices made it possible for many growers and shippers to finish the season with a profit rather than a heavy loss; and

WHEREAS, The entire buying trade, throughout the United States and Canada, has also shown substantial benefits from this program; and

WHEREAS, Under the fine chairmanship of Danny Danenberg, each member of the advisory board, whether he was for or against the pro rate act, co-operated wholeheartedly, not from a personal standpoint, but for the welfare of the industry as a whole, which resulted in a remarkable demonstration of a smoothly-working team carrying out its difficult task of trying to assess and determine the answers to myriad questions of quota and policy, so that everyone would receive fair and impartial treatment, and this was accomplished with signal success; and

WHEREAS, Danny Danenberg was given invaluable assistance by Mr. Frank Bennett of the State Department of Agriculture, an outstanding public official, as well as by Mr. Glen Simmons, as manager; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the members of this house join with the lettuce industry in commending Danny Danenberg for his hard work and perseverance even at great personal sacrifice, and for his success in bringing about the inauguration of the regional marketing order which has led to such a successful lettuce season; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be hereby directed to transmit a suitably prepared copy of this resolution to Mr. Danny Danenberg.

Resolution read, and unanimously adopted on motion of Senator Beard.

By Senators Holmdahl, Farr, Rodda, Regan, Short, O'Sullivan, Slatery, Collier, and McAteer:

Senate Resolution No. 70

Relative to commending the University of California

WHEREAS, It was with great pleasure and a deep sense of pride that the Members of the Senate of the State of California learned of the basketball victory of the University of California Golden Bears on March 21, 1959, to become National Collegiate Athletic Association Champions; and

WHEREAS, Champions of the Pacific Coast Conference in basketball for the third consecutive year, the Bears, with a record of 25 victories and but four losses completed the most successful season in the history of University of California athletics; and

WHEREAS, Basketball Coach Pete Newell has been elected "Northern California Coach of the Year" in 1957, 1958 and 1959 by the Northern California writers and sportscasters for his outstanding coaching accomplishments while at the University of California; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Members of the Senate of the State of California do hereby extend to the University of California, to Pete Newell, and to the individual members of the basketball team their sincere and heartiest congratulations upon their outstanding victory in the National Collegiate Athletic Association Tournament in Louisville, Kentucky; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be hereby directed to prepare and transmit suitably prepared copies of this resolution to the President of the University of California, Dr. Clark Kerr; to Chancellor of the Berkeley campus of the University of California, Glenn T. Seaborg; to Pete Newell, coach of the Golden Bears; and to each member of the team.

Resolution read, and unanimously adopted on motion of Senator Holmdahl.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 67

Senate Resolution No. 67

Relative to a waterfowl management area near Dorris, Modoc County

WHEREAS, The population of this State is constantly increasing and yet less and less area is available for outdoor recreational and hunting activities for this population; and

WHEREAS, Today many hunters find it most difficult, if not impossible, to find areas on which to hunt migratory waterfowl; and

WHEREAS, The ever-increasing use of land for industrial and agricultural development has seriously endangered the future of migratory waterfowl on the Pacific flyway by decreasing the areas available for nesting and breeding and also limiting the area available for resting in their southern migration; and

WHEREAS, The Department of Fish and Game through co-operation with the Federal Government and its Fish and Wildlife Service has been able to meet these problems by the creation of waterfowl management and shooting areas which not only give hunters an excellent opportunity to enjoy this sport but also provide much needed areas for proper management of the waterfowl resources; and

WHEREAS, The United States Fish and Wildlife Service has proposed to purchase 6,000 acres of land in the Dorris area of Modoc County for such a waterfowl management and shooting area but such proposal must be approved by the California Fish and Game Commission as to the maintenance and operation of the area by the Department of Fish and Game; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the California Fish and Game Commission is requested to consider this needed project for a waterfowl management and shooting area at its April 3rd meeting; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to transmit a copy of this resolution to the Fish and Game Commission.

Resolution read, and unanimously adopted on motion of Senator Arnold.

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered:

By Senator Montgomery:

Senate Resolution No. 72

Relative to senior citizens of California

WHEREAS, The well-demonstrated greatness of the State of California is due in large measure to the efforts of those people who are now the senior citizens of California; and

WHEREAS, The blessings of longer life and better health are being made available to our senior citizens while technological progress is making the task of earning a living less toilsome physically and bringing arbitrary retirement to older persons at an age when most of them can and want to continue as productive members of society; and

WHEREAS, Arbitrary retirement tends to minimize the usefulness of older people to their communities and at the same time makes it difficult for them to obtain good housing, adequate nourishment, adequate medical care and necessary recreational and educational opportunities because of sharply limited income; and

WHEREAS, The efforts of science will continue to increase the human life span and accelerate the increase in the number of persons surviving into the later years; and

WHEREAS, The foregoing factors make it necessary that proper planning be done to meet the needs and problems of California's senior citizens; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, a majority of all the members elected thereto voting therefor and concurring therein, That the month of May, 1959, be designated as Senior Citizens Month; and be it further

Resolved, That the efforts of the Governor of the State of California to establish May, 1959, as a fittingly observed Senior Citizens Month be commended; and be it further

Resolved, That the communities of the State of California be urged to mark the importance of Senior Citizens Month by observances which will acknowledge the contributions made to California's progress by its senior citizens; and be it further

Resolved, That the communities of the State of California be urged to stress the importance of the contribution to the welfare and well-being of the entire community, which can be made by the senior citizen; and be it further

Resolved, That the people of the State of California be urged to continue in their worldwide recognized leadership in meeting the needs and problems of the senior citizen and in making their communities places where the senior citizen can live out his years in dignity, self-respect, usefulness and good citizenship; and be it further

Resolved, That every state department and agency be urged to give all the necessary encouragement and assistance to the communities of the State in marking Senior Citizens Month with fitting observances; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is hereby directed to transmit copies hereof to the Honorable Edmund G. Brown, Governor of the State of California, the Citizens' Advisory Committee on Aging, and to the directors of all state agencies.

Resolution read, and unanimously adopted on motion of Senator Montgomery.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY SENATOR BURNS

It is my sad duty to announce the death of the mother of our colleague, Senator Jack Slattery. In our opening prayer today, let us ask God to be merciful to the soul of the departed, and to console those she leaves behind.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. I. E. Metcalf:

Our Father, we pray today for an awareness of our need for one another; that we are "involved in mankind." Those whom we have never seen have plowed the fields, raised the grain, and processed the food upon which our lives depend. Those whose names we do not know minister to us daily in a thousand ways. Grant that we may accept these gifts with gratitude, and with the desire to be fair and just to all men. And now, we stand with bowed heads as we extend our sympathy to Senator Slattery in the death of his mother. May all the comfort that derives from our human association and the Christian faith be his in this sad hour, through Christ our Lord. AMEN.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

Senator Gibson led the Senate in pledging allegiance to the Flag.

Fair Employment Practices—No. 11893

DEAR MR. RUMFORD :

Question

In connection with Assembly Bill No. 91 as amended on March 18, 1959, you ask whether the investigatory powers, and the powers of conciliation and persuasion, which would be vested in the Fair Employment Practice Commission proposed to be created by the terms of the bill would, insofar as the bill would permit their exercise prior to the filing of a complaint or accusation, be of unusual character or in any way extraordinary in comparison with similar powers granted to other state agencies by statute.

Opinion

In our opinion the investigatory powers which would be vested in the Fair Employment Practice Commission under the terms of the bill, though exercisable with or without the filing of a prior complaint or accusation, are not unusual in character and would not be considered extraordinary innovations in the law. We know of only one other state agency which has powers in nature similar to those pertaining to conciliation and persuasion provided in Assembly Bill No. 91.

Analysis

Assembly Bill No. 91 would add a new part consisting of Sections 1410 to 1432 to the Labor Code to create a Fair Employment Practice Commission charged with the duty of safeguarding the right and opportunity of all persons to seek, obtain, and hold employment without discrimination or abridgment on account of race, religious creed, color, racial origin, or ancestry. The commission would be given extensive powers to carry out the purposes of the act, including the power to make determinations upon complaints alleging discrimination in employment, to hold hearings, subpoena witnesses, and compel their attendance, administer oaths, examine persons under oath, and to require the production of any books or papers relating to any matter under investigation or in question before the commission. The investigatory powers which would be granted the commission appear in Sections 1421 and 1423 which would be added to the Labor Code by the bill. Those sections read as follows:

“1421. The commission is empowered to prevent unlawful employment practices. When it shall appear to it that an unlawful employment practice may have been committed, the chairman of the commission shall designate one of the commissioners to make, with the assistance of the commission's staff, prompt investigation in connection therewith. If such commissioner determines after such investigation that further action is warranted, he shall immediately endeavor to eliminate the unlawful employment practice complained of by conference, conciliation and persuasion. The members of the commission and its staff shall not disclose what has transpired in the course of such endeavors.

1423. After the filing of any accusation, an investigation shall be made and an attempt to eliminate such practice shall be made as provided in Section 1421 unless such attempt has previously been made.

In case of failure to eliminate such practice, or in advance thereof if in the judgment of the commissioner making the investigation, circumstances warrant, the latter shall cause to be issued and served in the name of the commission, a written notice, together with a copy of such accusation, as the same may have been amended, requiring the person, employer, labor organization or employment agency named to answer the charges of such accusation at a hearing.”

These sections vest broad investigatory powers in the commission, and it is clear from examination of the sections as a whole that they contemplate the conduct of the investigations both before and after the filing of formal accusations.

A comparison of the powers of investigation which would be granted the Fair Employment Practice Commission by the bill with comparable powers vested in other agencies of the State Government by pertinent statutory provisions indicates that for the particular purposes for which the commission would be created its powers of investigation would not be unusual or extraordinary. Without undertaking a comprehensive comparison with the powers of investigation given by law to every agency of the State Government, we believe that this can be demonstrated by examination of provisions governing the investigatory authority of a few of the prominent agencies in the administrative branch of the State Government.

Under Section 7090 of the Business and Professions Code, the registrar of contractors "may upon his own motion and shall upon the verified complaint of any person" investigate the activities of any contractor in the State. Similar powers are given to the California State Board of Architectural Examiners (Sec. 5560, B. and P. C.), the Chief, Division of Collection Agencies (Sec. 6925, B. and P. C.), the Yacht and Ship Brokers' Commission (Sec. 8950, B. and P. C.), and other regulatory bodies.

The division of Labor Law Enforcement in the Department of Industrial Relations is required, by Section 217 of the Labor Code, to "inquire diligently for any violations" of statutory provisions dealing with the time and manner of making wage payments and is empowered to institute actions for penalties prescribed by related provisions of law.

The Industrial Welfare Commission has the continuing duty under Section 1173 of the Labor Code, "to ascertain the wages paid and the hours and conditions of labor and employment in the various occupations, trades, and industries in which women and minors are employed in this State, and to investigate the comfort, health, safety and welfare of such women and minors." Under Section 1174 of the Labor Code the Industrial Welfare Commission may require submission of reports and information by employers, and commission members and employees must be given free access to any place of business or employment to enable them to secure any information or make any investigation authorized by applicable laws, and they are empowered to inspect and make excerpts from the books and records of the employers relating to the employment of women and minors. Under Section 1178 of the Labor Code, the commission is authorized, where investigation shows that women and minors are being employed for inadequate wages or for hours or under conditions of labor which are prejudicial to their health, morals or welfare, to select a wage board to take the matter under consideration and to make recommendations to the commission.

The head of any department in the State Government is authorized, by Section 11180 of the Government Code, to make investigations and prosecute actions concerning all matters relating to the business activities and subjects under the jurisdiction of the department, violations of any law, rule, or order of the department, and any other matters as may be provided by law.

In addition to the specific investigatory powers granted to state agencies under the provisions outlined above, we may note that the Public Utilities Commission is given powers of a similarly broad nature by Sections 314 and 315 of the Public Utilities Code, as well as by other provisions of law; that the Commissioner of Corporations, under Section 25350 of the Corporations Code, is given extensive powers in respect to investigation of activities of persons and firms subject to the Corporate Securities Law; and that under Section 532, Sections 1900 and following, as well as other provisions of the Financial Code, the Superintendent of Banks is given investigatory powers of the broadest character in respect to the activities of banking establishments.

On the basis of the powers given state agencies under the provisions discussed above, we believe that the investigatory powers which would be vested in the Fair Employment Practice Commission by Assembly Bill No. 91 generally, and insofar as they permit investigations prior to the filing of a formal complaint or accusations, would in no way be unusual or extraordinary in character.

With respect to the powers of conference, conciliation, and persuasion which would be vested with the commission, we have found only one state agency which has been given similar authority, and that is the Department of Industrial Relations with respect to action in labor disputes. Section 65 of the Labor Code specifies that the department may investigate and mediate labor disputes upon request of any bona fide party to the dispute, and "may proffer its services to both parties when a work stoppage is threatened and neither party requests intervention."

Very truly yours,

Fair Employment Practices (Assembly Bill No. 91)—No. 8295

DEAR MR. RUMFORD: In connection with Assembly Bill No. 91 (the fair employment practice measure), as introduced, you have asked four questions which we shall consider in series.

Question No. 1

Under Section 1421 * would the Fair Employment Practice Commission be empowered to initiate accusations on its own motion?

Opinion No. 1

In our opinion, Section 1421 would not authorize the commission to issue accusations on its own motion.

* Unless otherwise indicated, section references are to sections which would be added to the Labor Code by the bill.

Section 1421 would empower the commission to prevent discriminatory employment practices. The chairman of the commission would be required, when it appeared to the commission that a discriminatory employment practice may have been committed, to designate a commission member to make a prompt investigation in connection therewith. The commission member would, in the event that he determined from the investigation that further action was warranted, be required to undertake immediate endeavors to eliminate the unlawful employment practice complained of by conference, conciliation or persuasion. Section 1421 read as follows:

"1421. The commission is empowered to prevent discriminatory employment practices. When it shall appear to it that a discriminatory employment practice may have been committed, the chairman of the commission shall designate one of the commissioners to make, with the assistance of the commission's staff, prompt investigation in connection therewith. If such commissioner determines after such investigation that further action is warranted, he shall immediately endeavor to eliminate the unlawful employment practice complained of by conference, conciliation and persuasion. The members of the commission and its staff shall not disclose what has transpired in the course of such endeavors."

The various sections of the bill governing the procedure to be followed by the commission in determining whether an unlawful employment practice has been committed, make it clear that such proceedings are initiated by the filing of an accusation (Sees. 1425 and 1426).

Section 1421 contains no provision expressly authorizing the commission to issue an accusation on its own motion. The only section of the bill dealing specifically with the person who may file accusations is Section 1422. That section would permit the filing of accusations with the commission by three persons or classes of persons: (1) any person claiming to be aggrieved by an alleged unlawful employment practice; (2) the Attorney General; and (3) any employer whose employees, or some of them, refuse or threaten to refuse to co-operate with the provisions of the bill. Section 1422 reads as follows:

"1422. Any person claiming to be aggrieved by an alleged unlawful employment practice may file with the commission a verified accusation in writing which shall state the name and address of the person, employer, labor organization or employment agency alleged to have committed the unlawful employment practice complained of and which shall set forth the particulars thereof and contain such other information as may be required by the commission. The Attorney General may, in like manner, make, sign and file such accusation. Any employer whose employees, or some of them, refuse or threaten to refuse to co-operate with the provisions of this part may file with the commission a verified accusation asking for assistance by conciliation or other remedial action."

In view of the specificity with which the persons who may file accusations under the bill are designated, and in the absence of any express authority vested in the commission itself to initiate such accusations, either in Section 1421 or elsewhere in the bill, it is our opinion that the commission is not authorized to issue accusations on its own motion. We believe that the first sentence of Section 1421 ("The commission is empowered to prevent discriminatory employment practices.") would be construed as no more than a general statement of the powers of the commission as exercisable under and in accordance with all of the provisions of the bill.

Question No. 2

Would either the last sentence of Section 1421, or the provisions of Section 1424, conflict with the provisions of the so-called "Secret Meeting Law" set out in Sections 54950 and 54958, inclusive, of the Government Code, relating to the conduct of meetings by public agencies?

Opinion and Analysis

The last sentence of Section 1421 would prohibit the members of the commission and its staff from disclosing what transpired in the course of endeavors to eliminate unlawful employment practices by conference, conciliation or persuasion (see Section 1421 as set out above). Section 1424 specifies that administrative hearings held under the provisions of the bill "shall be conducted, as nearly as practicable, in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code, and the commission shall have all the powers granted therein."

The "Secret Meeting Law" set out in Sections 54950 to 54958 of the Government Code, requires generally that meetings of certain public agencies be conducted openly. However, those provisions of law are applicable only to "local agencies," which are there defined as a county, city, city and county, town, school district, municipal corporation, district, political subdivision, or any board, commission or agency thereof, or any other local public agency" (Sec. 54951, Gov. C.).

The Fair Employment Practice Commission which would be created by Assembly Bill No. 91 would be a state governmental agency, and the "Secret Meeting Law" would clearly have no application to that body. In connection with Section 1421, it must also be noted that the bill makes no provision for secrecy in respect to administrative hearings held after issuance and service of a notice of hearing.

Question No. 3

Under Section 1430, which imposes criminal penalties for wilfully interfering with the commission or wilfully violating its orders, is an accused entitled to a trial de novo or are the findings of fact of the administrative hearing controlling?

Opinion No. 3

In our opinion the courts would not grant the accused in a criminal proceeding brought under Section 1430 a trial de novo (a new trial) on the issues covered by the final decision or order of the commission. Where it appeared that the decision or order was void because the commission had acted beyond its jurisdiction or in a fraudulent manner or under an erroneous interpretation of law, we think the accused would be permitted to show that by way of defense.

Analysis No. 3

Section 1430 would impose criminal penalties for wilfully resisting, preventing, impeding, or interfering with any member of the commission or any of its agents or agencies in the performance of their duties, or for wilfully violating an order of the commission. The section reads as follows:

"1430. Any person who shall wilfully resist, prevent, impede or interfere with any member of the commission or any of its agents or agencies in the performance of duties pursuant to this part, or who shall in any manner wilfully violate an order of the commission, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment in a county jail, not exceeding six (6) months, or by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500), or both."

A judicial proceeding under this section would, of course, be a criminal prosecution, and as such would be wholly collateral to administrative proceedings conducted under the other provisions of the bill or the direct judicial review of final orders or decisions issued in such administrative proceedings. Attempts might be made in the criminal proceedings to challenge the validity of some final order of the commission, which would pose a problem of the extent to which the proceedings giving rise to the order could be inquired into or reviewed.

The law concerning the extent to which proceedings forming the basis of a ruling or decision of an administrative body may be reviewed in collateral proceedings is unsettled. No definite rules have been established to cover all situations, and this is particularly true where the collateral proceedings are prosecutions under a statute imposing a criminal penalty for violation of administrative orders (see discussion 28 Cal. Law Rev. 129, at 165).

Generally speaking, attempts to question, in a subsequent proceeding, the conclusiveness of a prior administrative decision are rejected by the courts in the case of an agency acting in its adjudicative authority at least where the agency acted within its jurisdiction and the ground of attack asserted relates to error of facts or irregularity (42 Am. Jur. 515; 2 Cal. Jur. 2d 337). On the other hand, it has been held that an administrative determination is subject to impeachment in any kind of proceeding if the determination was not made by the agency acting in its adjudicative capacity, or in any event if the determination is invalid or void for lack of jurisdiction (42 Am. Jur. 516). Administrative determinations may be collaterally attacked where made in fraud or bad faith (73 C.J.S. 479).

There are apparently no California decisions involving an attempted collateral attack of an administrative determination under a statute making its violation a crime. In the civil cases which have arisen some principles have been established.

It is settled that the rule permitting collateral attack of administrative decisions on the basis of absence of jurisdiction does not generally apply to the decisions of the Industrial Accident Commission and the Public Utilities Commission, because of the special status accorded these agencies by the State Constitution (Thaxter v. Finn, 178 Cal. 270; North Pacific S.S. Co. v. Soley, 193 Cal. 138; Brewer v. Railroad Commission, 190 Cal. 60). The sole remedy permitted in challenging decisions of these agencies is by direct appeal.

With respect to public bodies not accorded the status of a constitutional agency with specific adjudicatory powers, the courts are more liberal in permitting review of administrative decisions in collateral proceedings though there are limitations (Madison v. City and County of San Francisco, 106 Cal. App. 2d, 232). It has been indicated that the administrative tribunal's jurisdiction may be inquired into in a collateral proceeding (Stockton v. Department of Employment, 25 Cal. 2d 264). It has been stated, however, that where the matter of jurisdiction is a fact question upon which the administrative agency made a finding the matter is not subject to collateral attack (People v. Los Angeles, 133 Cal. 338; Nelson v. Oro Loma Sanitary District, 101 Cal. App. 2d 349). The decision of the tribunal is subject to collateral impeachment where the decision is not based upon a determination of fact but upon an erroneous conclusion of law rendering it void (Aylward v. Board of Medical Examiners, 31 Cal. 2d 833; chiropractic licenses cancelled without proper hearing and on the ground that they had been improperly issued originally). A review of decision will be undertaken where the board acted arbitrarily, capriciously, or fraudulently (Saks & Co. v. City of Beverly Hills, 107 Cal. App. 2d 260; improper procedures in revoking temporary zoning variances).

To what degree the California courts would permit the decisions and orders of the Fair Employment Practice Commission to be inquired into in a collateral criminal proceeding under Section 1430 cannot be precisely defined. That body would not, of course, have the status of constitutional agencies such as the Public Utilities Commission and the Industrial Accident Commission, and the limitations imposed upon the collateral attack of the decisions of those bodies would be inapplicable.

We can assume that the orders and decisions of the Fair Employment Practice Commission could be challenged, in a criminal proceeding under Section 1430, at least to the extent permitted in the case of the decisions of other agencies with a similar status. We believe that the courts would not, in view of the comprehensive hearing and appellate procedures provided (Secs. 1424 to 1429, inclusive), permit factual questions to be reopened in the criminal prosecution. The courts would, we think, permit the accused to show that the final order or decision upon which the prosecution is based is void because the commission acted beyond its jurisdiction or in a fraudulent manner, or under an erroneous interpretation of law.

Question No. 4

If the Fair Employment Practice Commission which would be created by Assembly Bill No. 91 were placed within the Department of Industrial Relations would the commission's powers granted under the bill be in any way restricted or curtailed by the department's rules and regulations?

Opinion No. 4

In our opinion the powers which would be granted the commission in matters pertaining to fair employment practices would be exclusive and would not be restricted or curtailed by rules or regulations adopted by the Department of Industrial Relations.

Analysis No. 4

Assembly Bill No. 91 would give the Fair Employment Practice Commission created by its provisions numerous powers including the power to prevent discriminatory employment practices, to formulate policies to effectuate the purposes of the bill, and to adopt, promulgate, amend and rescind suitable rules and regulations to carry out the provisions of the bill (see Secs. 1418, 1419, and 1421).

The general powers and duties of the Department of Industrial Relations are set out in Chapter 1 (commencing at Section 50) of Division 1 of the Labor Code, and various other special powers and duties are given that department by other provisions of the Labor Code. None of the powers and duties extend to fair employment practice matters such as those contained in Assembly Bill No. 91.

A state agency cannot, of course, adopt rules and regulations which go beyond its statutory authorization or which alter or enlarge the terms of legislative enactment (Oddo v. Hedde, 101 Cal. App. 2d 375; California Employment Commission v. Kovacovich, 27 Cal. 2d 546). Thus, insofar as authority to adopt and administer rules and regulations under the Fair Employment Practice Act would be concerned, the authority of the Fair Employment Practice Commission would be exclusive. The adoption and administration of rules and regulations by the Department of Industrial Relations, in the areas in which it is given such authority by statute, could not lawfully be such as would interfere with the execution of the fair employment practices laws, and it is our opinion that such would be the case irrespective of whether the commission were placed within the Department of Industrial Relations or not.

Very truly yours,

CHAPTER 5. CHILD CARE CENTERS

Article 1. Normal Child Care Centers

SEC. 2. Article 2 (commencing at Section 16645.1) is added to Chapter 5 of Division 12 of the Education Code, to read:

Article 2. Mentally Retarded and Physically Handicapped Child Care Centers

16645.1. The purpose of the Legislature in enacting this article is to determine (1) The extent of need for child care centers for physically handicapped and mentally retarded children, (2) problems encountered in their operation, (3) cost of operation, and (4) effectiveness of such centers to relieve parents to engage in work and to reduce the demand for institutional placement.

16645.2. The governing board of any school district is authorized to establish and maintain, upon the approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, one or more pilot child care centers for physically handicapped and mentally retarded children between 2 years and 16 years of age residing in, and in the custody of persons residing in, the district. The governing board shall determine the hours, days, and months during which the child care center is to be maintained.

16645.3. As used in this article (commencing at Section 16645.1) "parent" includes any person having legal custody of a child, and "child care center" means a child care center for mentally retarded and physically handicapped children.

16645.4. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall establish reasonable and uniform standards for child care centers, and shall establish standards for the admission of a child. He may change the standards whenever he deems it advisable.

16645.5. A governing board maintaining a child care center may accommodate in the center children residing in another district upon such terms and under such conditions as may be agreed upon by the governing boards of both districts.

16645.6. The governing board may permit the use of, and furnish maintenance for, buildings, grounds, and equipment of the district, and may use existing administrative personnel for the purposes of this article (commencing at Section 16645.1).

16645.7. The governing board may enter into agreements with any city, county, or city and county or other public agency for the furnishing to, or use by, the governing board in carrying out the provisions of this article (commencing at Section 16645.1), of property, facilities, personnel, supplies, equipment and other necessary items, and such city, county, city and county, or other public agency is authorized to enter into such agreements.

16645.8. The governing board shall charge and collect in advance, from the person having custody of any child admitted to a child care center, a weekly fee equal to that specified in the fee schedule prescribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

16645.9. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall prepare a schedule of fees which shall be used by each school district for the charging of fees to parents. Such schedule shall not exceed twice the hourly fee established for a normal child care center. The fees shall be based on the financial status of the parents, with larger fees to be charged for children of families having lower incomes.

If the combined income of the parents having one child exceeds four hundred sixty-two dollars ($462), or, where there is more than one child, if it exceeds four hundred sixty-two dollars ($462) plus an additional sixty-six dollars ($66) for each additional child, the parents shall be charged the full cost of care of the child at the center. Fees for children of parents having lower incomes shall be fixed on a sliding scale basis. If it becomes necessary for the Superintendent of Public Instruction to adjust the fee schedule, any increase shall be made first in fees charged to those in the higher income brackets. The rate of increase in fees charged for children of families of different income levels need not be uniform as between the different income levels.

The fee schedule shall, so far as reasonably possible, be established on such basis and in accordance with such principles as the Superintendent of Public Instruction may determine to insure proper administration of the child care center program and to establish uniform budgetary and accounting procedures.

16645.10. The Superintendent of Public Instruction may revise the fee schedule as necessary in order to conform with the provisions of this code. A change in the fee schedule shall become effective fifteen (15) days after notice of such change has been given by the Superintendent of Public Instruction in writing to each district maintaining a child care center.

16645.11. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall apportion state funds to the districts in such amounts as will equal the difference between fifty-two cents ($0.52) and the average hourly fee per child collected, but such amount shall not be less than thirteen cents ($0.13) per hour per child or more than thirty-one cents ($0.31) per hour per child.

16645.12. Pursuant to Sections 20501 to 21001, inclusive, the governing board of any school district maintaining a child care center may include in its budget the amount necessary to carry out its program pursuant to this article (commencing at Section 16645.1) and the board of supervisors shall levy a school district tax necessary to raise such amount. The tax shall be in addition to any other school district tax authorized by law to be levied.

Funds derived from such tax may be expended in addition to parent fees and state funds, and shall not operate to affect the operation of either the fee schedule or the formula for apportioning state funds provided for in Sections 16645.9 and 16645.11.

16645.13. The governing board shall establish in the county treasury a fund to be known as the "mentally retarded and physically handicapped child care center fund" into which shall be paid all funds received by the district for, or from the operation of, child care centers established under this article (commencing at Section 16645.1). The costs incurred in the maintenance and operation of child care centers shall be paid from the fund, except that any contributions authorized or required to be paid by the district on account of services of employees of a child care center to a retirement system shall be paid from the general fund of the district or from funds of the district derived from a special tax levied pursuant to Section 14657 or 14758 of the Education Code or Section 20532 of the Government Code.

No other funds of a district derived from the receipts of district taxes, except a district tax levied under Sections 16645.12 and 16645.16, or derived from moneys apportioned to the district for the support of the schools thereof, except state moneys expressly appropriated from the General Fund for the support of child care centers, may be expended for, or in connection with, a child care center.

16645.14. If during any fiscal year there is apportioned to the "child care center fund" more or less than the amount to which the fund was entitled, the Superintendent of Public Instruction during the next or any succeeding fiscal year shall withhold from, or add to, the apportionment during such next or succeeding year, the amount of such excess or deficiency.

16645.15. The State Department of Education is hereby authorized to accept funds from the Government of the United States and to apportion them to the governing board of such school districts as conduct child care centers which are hereby authorized to accept such funds or funds from any other source for any of the purposes of this article (commencing at Section 16645.1) and all such funds may be accepted subject to such conditions as will further the purposes of this article (commencing at Section 16645.1).

16645.16. In any county or school district in which local conditions demand or make desirable the furnishing of additional services or facilities, a school district or a county may provide, either jointly or severally, for such additional services or facilities of the child care centers established and maintained in such school district or county. Any additional services or facilities furnished pursuant to this section shall meet all of the requirements of this article (commencing at Section 16645.1). Any county desiring to provide such additional services or facilities may levy a tax to provide funds for such purpose. Pursuant to Sections 20501 to 21001, inclusive, the governing board of any school district desiring to provide such additional services or facilities may include in its budget the amount necessary therefor and the board of supervisors shall levy a school district tax necessary to raise such amount. The school district tax shall be in addition to any other school district tax authorized by law to be levied.

16645.17. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall establish standards for the issuance of permits for persons to be employed in child care centers established under this article (commencing at Section 16645.1). Such standards may be changed from time to time, but changes therein shall not affect then valid permits issued to persons.

16645.18. The governing board shall employ in a child care center only such persons who held permits issued by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. The filing with the county superintendent of schools of a regulation of a governing board or a public health agency requiring a physical examination of persons employed in child care centers shall be deemed to be the issuance of a valid permit except for persons employed in positions pertaining to the care and guidance of children or supervision of a child care program. Each person employed by the governing board of a school district for a position requiring a permit shall, not later than 60 days after the date fixed by the governing board of the district for the commencement of his service, file with the county superintendent of schools a valid permit issued on or before said date, authorizing him to serve in the position for which he was employed, and must, not later than 60 days after the renewal thereof, file the renewed permit in the same manner.

16645.19. Each person employed by a school district in a child care center under the provisions of this article (commencing at Section 16645.1) shall be deemed for all purposes, including retirement, to be a person employed by the school district in a position not requiring certification qualifications, except that he shall not be subject to the provisions of Sections 13701 to 13756, inclusive, of this code.

16645.20. The governing board may adopt such reasonable rules and regulations governing the child care center or centers maintained by it as are not in conflict with law or the standards and regulations established for child care centers by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. The rules and regulations adopted by the governing board may include, among others, rules and regulations relating to the admission of children to, and their exclusion from, such center or centers.

16645.21. No standard, rule or regulation shall require medical examination or immunization for admission to a child care center of a child whose parent or guardian files a letter with the governing board of the school district stating that such medical examination or immunization is contrary to his or her religious beliefs, or provide for the exclusion of a child from the center because of parent or guardian having filed such a letter; provided, however, that whenever there is good cause to believe that a child is suffering from a recognized contagious or infectious disease, the child may be temporarily excluded from the center until the governing board of the school district is satisfied that any contagious or infectious disease does not exist.

16645.22. Children regularly enrolled in a child care center who are absent on account of illness or quarantine shall be considered to be in regular attendance for the number of hours per day for which they are enrolled for the purpose of reporting attendance for state apportionments, whenever the school district certifies that such absence was on account of illness or quarantine and is verified by the district in such manner as the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall require. All attendance shall be recorded and reported in accordance with the requirements of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

16645.23. Any child care center may be discontinued at any time at the discretion of the governing board of the district upon the giving of the notice herein prescribed.

Not less than 30 days before the discontinuance of a child care center the governing board shall mail to each person having custody of a child in attendance at such child care center a notice of the intended discontinuance of the child care center and the date the discontinuance will become effective, and shall post a similar notice at the child care center.

MOTIONS TO PRINT OPINIONS IN JOURNAL

Senator Cobey moved that the following opinion by the Legislative Counsel regarding judicial review be printed in the Journal.

Motion carried.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

SACRAMENTO, April 7, 1959

Hon. James A. Cobey
Senate Chamber

F. E. P. C.—Judicial Review—No. 12044

DEAR SENATOR COBEY: You have requested us to state what procedure would exist for judicial review of orders and decisions of the Fair Employment Practices Commission proposed by Assembly Bill No. 91, as amended in the Senate on April 6, 1959, and whether an order or decision of the commission can be stayed pending such review.

Assembly Bill No. 91, as amended, provides that hearings held by the commission shall be conducted, as nearly as practicable, in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, which appears in Chapter 5 (commencing at Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code (proposed Section 1424 of the Labor Code). The bill further provides that every final order or decision of the commission is subject to judicial review in accordance with law (proposed Section 1428 of the Labor Code).

Judicial review of an agency order or decision under the Administrative Procedure Act may be had by filing a petition for a writ of mandate in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure (Gov. C., Sec. 11523). The use of the writ of mandate to review the orders and decisions of administrative agencies is expressly provided for by Section 1094.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

In connection with the status and effect of an administrative order or decision while it is being reviewed by the courts, subdivision (f) of Section 1094.5, provides as follows:

"(f) The court in which proceedings under this section are instituted may stay the operation of the administrative order or decision pending the judgment of the court, or until the filing of a notice of appeal from the judgment or until the expiration of the time for filing such notice whichever occurs first; provided, that no such stay shall be imposed or continued if the court is satisfied that it is against the public interest. If an appeal is taken from a denial of the writ, the order or decision of the agency shall not be stayed except upon the order of the court to which such appeal is taken; provided that, in cases where a stay is in effect at the time of filing the notice of appeal, such stay shall be continued by operation of law for a period of twenty (20) days from the filing of such notice. If an appeal is taken from the granting of the writ, the order or decision of the agency is stayed pending the determination of the appeal unless the court to which such appeal is taken shall otherwise order. Where any final administrative order or decision is the subject of proceedings under this section, if the petition shall have been filed while the penalty imposed is in full force and effect the determination shall not be considered to have become moot in cases where the penalty imposed by the administrative agency has been completed or complied with during the pendency of such proceedings."

Under this subdivision, the court in which an order or decision is being reviewed may stay operation of the order or decision if satisfied that such stay will not be against the public interest. The court may so stay the operation of the order or decision until a judgment is issued, or until a notice of appeal is filed or the time for filing such notice expires, whichever first occurs. If the court enters judgment denying the writ of mandate, any stay must be obtained from the court to which the decision is appealed, except that any stay in effect at the time of filing the notice of appeal will be automatically continued for twenty (20) days. If the trial court grants the writ of mandate, the operation of the administrative order or decision is stayed pending final outcome of any appeal.

It is our opinion that the status and effect of the commission's orders under judicial review would be determined by whether or not a stay of operation has been obtained pursuant to this provision. The granting of the stay is, of course, largely discretionary with the trial court and will depend upon the facts in each case. If a stay were granted the continued commission of the acts during the period of the stay would not be a misdemeanor. If no stay were obtained the order or decision would be in effect and commission of the prohibited acts would constitute a crime.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By BERNARD CZESLA, Principal Deputy

Senator Cobey moved that the following opinion by the Legislative Counsel to Senator McAteer regarding Assembly Bill No. 91 be printed in the Journal.

Motion carried.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, April 7, 1959

Hon. Eugene McAteer
Senate Chamber

Assembly Bill No. 91—Fair Employment Practices—No. 12043

DEAR SENATOR McATEER: Pursuant to your request, we have prepared and enclose an amendment to Assembly Bill No. 91 which we originally prepared for you under Request No. 10724. The amendments have been adjusted to conform to Assembly Bill No. 91 as it was amended in Senate, April 6, 1959.

We would like to point out that the enclosed amendment would not, in our opinion, be unconstitutional on the ground of being special legislation. The California Constitution requires that all laws of a general nature shall have a uniform operation and prohibits the passing of special laws in all cases where a general law can be made applicable (Art. I, Secs. 11, 26; Art. IV, Sec. 25).

As the enclosed amendment is expressly made applicable to any city, city and county, or county in the State, which meets the conditions specified, we are of the opinion that the amendment would not be violative of the above articles of the Constitution.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS
Legislative Counsel

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Senator Thompson asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following communication regarding award of Good Citizenship Medal, which was presented to Senator Dilworth, printed in the Journal:

AWARD OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP MEDAL

At this eighty-third annual meeting of the California Society, Sons of the American Revolution, held at San Francisco on the fourth of April, 1959, an award of the Good Citizenship Medal of the society is made to our compatriot, the Honorable Nelson S. Dilworth, in recognition of his outstanding record of public service in state and national affairs.

As chairman of the Investigating Committee on Education of the California Senate, Compatriot Dilworth has sought at all times to maintain the independence and integrity of the public schools, under proper control at the state and local level. He has consistently opposed the use of subversive textbooks and other propaganda materials in the schools. He believes in strengthening the public school system and increasing its effectiveness as an agency dedicated to the support and defense of constitutional government. At present he is sponsoring an amendment to the State Constitution to establish a "Bill of Rights for Mental Freedom" to protect the civil and political rights of persons involved in commitment proceedings. The honors conferred on him are too numerous to mention. His accomplishments have brought national recognition. He is a good citizen, an outstanding legislator—a man who is dedicated to maintaining and extending the institutions of American freedom.

The Good Citizenship Medal of this society is awarded to Compatriot Dilworth in recognition of these public services by the authority and pursuant to the instructions of the board of managers.

"SECTION 1. Section 2181 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

2181. The board of supervisors [shall] may determine the ability of responsible relatives to contribute to the support of applicant and designate the amount of aid, if any, to be granted. The maximum degree of liability of the responsible relative shall be determined by "relatives' contribution scale." In determining ability to contribute, the financial circumstances of responsible relatives shall be given due consideration and, in unusual cases, contributions at less than the amount fixed by "relatives' contribution scale" may be made as the board of supervisors may deem justifiable.

For purposes of this chapter, income of a responsible relative is defined as the sum of the income constituting the separate property of the responsible relative, the income (excluding earnings) which is community property subject to the direction and control of the responsible relative, and the earnings of the responsible relative but not of his or her spouse.

In computing net income, a flat 20 percent allowance shall be permitted in lieu of a reduction for the actual amount of personal income taxes, unemployment insurance taxes and social security taxes. Allowance shall also be permitted for expenses necessary to produce income, including the cost of transportation to and from work, meals eaten at work, union dues, cost of tools, equipment, and uniforms, and net actual and necessary traveling expenses incurred by the relative in performance of his employment. Traveling expenses shall include only those expenses incurred while away from home in pursuit of a trade or business which are not reimbursed by the relative's employer.

A responsible relative who is self-employed shall also be allowed to deduct the expenses necessary for obtaining the income.

For purposes of this chapter, the earnings of the spouse of the applicant or recipient shall not be considered community property.

A form [shall] may be sent to the responsible relative requiring the information essential to a determination of the relative's liability to support under said scale.

If any applicant for or recipient receiving aid under provisions of this chapter has residing within the State a spouse, parent, or adult child, pecuniarily able to support him, upon the failure of such kindred to perform their duty to support the blind person the board of supervisors may request the district attorney or other civil legal officer of the county to proceed against the kindred in the order of their responsibility for support.

Upon such request the district attorney, or other civil legal officer of the county granting aid may, on behalf of the county, maintain an action in the superior court of the county granting such aid, against such relatives, in the order named: (1) to recover for the county such portion of the aid granted as the courts find such relative or relatives pecuniarily able to pay and (2) to secure an order requiring the payment to the county of any sums which may become due in the future for which the relative may be liable. The receipt of aid by the applicant under the provisions of this chapter, however, shall not be contingent upon such recovery or such order. The sums so recovered shall be credited by the county in its settlement with the State.

The board of supervisors directly or through an authorized agent [shall] may determine the ability of responsible relatives to contribute to the support of applicant and designate the amount of aid, if any, to be granted. The maximum degree of liability of the responsible relative shall be determined by "relatives' contribution scale." Nothing in this section shall preclude the right of an applicant or recipient, or a responsible relative, from appealing directly to the board of supervisors concerning any determination made with respect to the degree of liability of responsible relatives, or of the authority of the board of supervisors to reduce responsible relatives' payment below the amount specified in the scale, where the circumstances justify.

No court action filed under the authority of this section shall seek the recovery for a county of any sum paid to a recipient of aid at a time prior to the day upon which the board of supervisors made a finding that the defendant spouse or adult child was pecuniarily able to support the recipient. If the responsible relative wilfully and without good cause delays in filing the statement of his income within the time limits as provided in this section the county may seek recovery from such responsible relative from the date said statement is required to be returned to the board of supervisors or their designated agent.

In determining ability to contribute, the financial circumstances of responsible relatives shall be given due consideration and in unusual cases, contributions at less than the amount fixed by "relatives' contributions scale" may be made as the board of supervisors may deem justifiable.

For purposes of this chapter, income of a responsible relative is defined as the sum of the income constituting the separate property of the responsible relative, the income (excluding earnings) which is community property subject to the direction and control of the responsible relative, and the earnings of the responsible relative, but not of his or her spouse.

In computing net income, a flat 20 percent allowance shall be permitted in lieu of a reduction for the actual amount of personal income taxes, unemployment insurance taxes and social security taxes.

A responsible relative who is self-employed shall also be allowed to deduct the expenses necessary for obtaining the income.

The maximum required monthly contribution of responsible relatives in one family where the net monthly income is over one thousand [one] three hundred seventy-five dollars [($1,175)] [($1,375)] shall be the amount computed by entering the column of maximum required monthly contribution appropriate to number of persons dependent upon income as shown in the relatives' contribution scale for a net monthly income of one thousand [one] three hundred fifty-one dollars [($1,151)] [($1,351)] to one thousand [one] three hundred seventy-five dollars [($1,175)] [($1,375)] and then adding to the required monthly contribution thus ascertained an additional sum of five dollars ($5) contribution for each and every bracket of twenty-five dollars ($25) net income over and above one thousand [one] three hundred seventy-five dollars [($1,175)] [($1,375)], the same as if the relatives' contribution scale were extended by brackets of twenty-five dollars ($25) net income in column A with corresponding step-by-step increases of five dollars ($5) monthly contribution in each column under B and C.

SEC. 3. Section 3474 of said code is amended to read:

3474. The board of supervisors or an agent designated by the board [shall] may determine if the applicant or recipient of aid has within this State a spouse, parent, or adult child responsible to contribute to the support of the applicant or recipient of aid pursuant to the relatives' contribution scale of this section. A form [shall] may be sent to the responsible relative requiring the information essential to a determination of the relative's liability to support under said scale.

If any applicant for or recipient receiving aid under provisions of this chapter has residing within the State a spouse, parent, or adult child, pecuniarily able to support him, upon the failure of such kindred to perform their duty to support the blind person the board of supervisors may request the district attorney or other civil legal officer of the county to proceed against the kindred in the order of their responsibility for support.

Upon such request the district attorney, or other civil legal officer of the county granting aid may, on behalf of the county, maintain an action in the superior court of the county granting such aid, against such relatives, in the order named: (1) to recover for the county such portion of the aid granted as the courts find such relative or relatives pecuniarily able to pay and (2) to secure an order requiring the payment to the county of any sums which may become due in the future for which the relative may be liable. The receipt of aid by the applicant under the provisions of this chapter, however, shall not be contingent upon such recovery or such order. The sums so recovered shall be credited by the county in its settlement with the State.

The board of supervisors directly or through an authorized agent [shall] may determine the ability of responsible relatives to contribute to the support of applicant and designate the amount of aid, if any, to be granted. The maximum degree of liability of the responsible relative shall be determined by "relatives' contribution scale." Nothing in this section shall preclude the right of an applicant or recipient, or a responsible relative, from appealing directly to the board of supervisors concerning any determination made with respect to the degree of liability of responsible relatives, or of the authority of the board of supervisors to reduce responsible relatives' payment below the amount specified in the scale, where the circumstances justify.

No court action filed under the authority of this section shall seek the recovery for a county of any sum paid to a recipient of aid at a time prior to the day upon which the board of supervisors made a finding that the defendant spouse or adult child was pecuniarily able to support the recipient. If the responsible relative wilfully and without good cause delays in filing the statement of his income within the time limits as provided in this section the county may seek recovery from such responsible relative from the date said statement is required to be returned to the board of supervisors or their designated agent.

In determining ability to contribute, the financial circumstances of responsible relatives shall be given due consideration and in unusual cases, contributions at less than the amount fixed by "relatives' contribution scale" may be made as the board of supervisors may deem justifiable.

For purposes of this chapter, income of a responsible relative is defined as the sum of the income constituting the separate property of the responsible relative, the income (excluding earnings) which is community property subject to the direction and control of the responsible relative, and the earnings of the responsible relative, but not of his or her spouse.

In computing net income, a flat 20 percent allowance shall be permitted in lieu of a reduction for the actual amount of personal income taxes, unemployment insurance taxes and social security taxes.

A responsible relative who is self-employed shall also be allowed to deduct the expenses necessary for obtaining the income.

The maximum required monthly contribution of responsible relatives in one family where the net monthly income is over one thousand [one] three hundred seventy-five dollars [($1,175)] ($1,375) shall be the amount computed by entering the column of maximum required monthly contribution appropriate to number of persons dependent upon income as shown in the relatives' contribution scale for a net monthly income of one thousand [one] three hundred fifty-one dollars [($1,151)] ($1,351) to one thousand [one] three hundred seventy-five dollars [($1,175)] ($1,375) and then adding to the required monthly contribution thus ascertained an additional sum of five dollars ($5) contribution for each and every bracket of twenty-five dollars ($25) net income over and above one thousand [one] three hundred seventy-five dollars [($1,175)] ($1,375), the same as if the relatives' contribution scale were extended by brackets of twenty-five dollars ($25) net income in column A with corresponding step-by-step increases of five dollars ($5) monthly contribution in each column under B and C.

SEC. 4. Section 4189.5 is added to said code, to read:

4189.5. The board of supervisors may determine the ability of responsible relatives to contribute to the support of applicant and designate the amount of aid, if any, to be granted. The maximum degree of liability of the responsible relative shall be determined by "relatives' contribution scale." In determining ability to contribute, the financial circumstances of responsible relatives shall be given due consideration and, in unusual cases, contributions at less than the amount fixed by "relatives' contribution scale" may be made as the board of supervisors may deem justifiable.

For purposes of this chapter, income of a responsible relative is defined as the sum of the income constituting the separate property of the responsible relative, the income (excluding earnings) which is community property subject to the direction and control of the responsible relative, and the earnings of the responsible relative but not of his or her spouse.

In computing net income, a flat 20 percent allowance shall be permitted in lieu of a reduction for the actual amount of personal income taxes, unemployment insurance taxes and social security taxes. Allowance shall also be permitted for expenses necessary to produce income, including the cost of transportation to and from work, meals eaten at work, union dues, cost of tools, equipment, and uniforms, and net actual and necessary traveling expenses incurred by the relative in performance of his employment. Traveling expenses shall include only those expenses incurred while away from home in pursuit of a trade or business which are not reimbursed by the relative's employer.

A responsible relative who is self-employed shall also be allowed to deduct the expenses necessary for obtaining the income.

For purposes of this chapter, the earnings of the spouse of the applicant or recipient shall not be considered community property.

Senate Resolution No. 62

Relative to the Trussell-Winchester Adobe

WHEREAS, On October 12, 1957, the California State Park Commission, in cooperation with the Santa Barbara Historical Society, dedicated the Trussell-Winchester Adobe, located at 412 West Montecito Street in Santa Barbara, as Historical Landmark No. 559; and

WHEREAS, The Trussell-Winchester Adobe was built in 1854 by a retired sea captain, Captain Horatio Gates Trussell of Orland, Maine, and was partially constructed of material from the wreck of the noble ship S.S. Winfield Scott on Anacapa Island; and

WHEREAS, The charming adobe, set in its beautiful garden, was acquired by the Winchester family in 1882 and was, to our good fortune, bequeathed in 1955 to the Santa Barbara Historical Society by Catherine Bagg Hastings, the niece of Miss Sarah Winchester; and

WHEREAS, The Trussell-Winchester Adobe during its many years of service as a home has housed or been owned by people and families such as Horatio and Ramona Trussell, seven of whose ten children were born in the adobe, and Mr. Herman Eddy, one of the founders of the Santa Barbara County National Bank, Sarah Winchester, pioneer Santa Barbara school teacher and daughter of Uriah Winchester, another New Englander who in 1869 settled at what is still known as Winchester Canyon beyond Goleta, and Walter Fulton Winchester, a surgeon with the Union forces in the Civil War, present at Appomattox when Lee surrendered, Charlotte Bagg, and her daughter, Catherine, Mrs. John Russel Hastings, who in her great generosity left the adobe by will to the Santa Barbara Historical Society; and

WHEREAS, Miss Maria Trussell, Mr. Rufus Trussell, Mr. Sherman Bagg, Mrs. Barbara Bagg McDonald, Mrs. Elizabeth Bagg von Rossler, descendants of those who made the Winchester Adobe their home, were present at the dedication of this historic monument to one of the periods of our colorful and rich past and to some of the intrepid pioneers of the State, and Mr. Ulric L. Trussell, Mr. Edward E. Trussell, and Mrs. Bernice Trussell Logue, are the surviving children of Mr. Edward Trussell who was born in the Trussell-Winchester Adobe and who managed and was major-domo of the Huasna Ranch in San Luis Obispo County, Mr. Edward E. Trussell and Mr. Ulric L. Trussell who is attached to the Legislative Bill Room in the State Capitol were represented at the dedication by Mrs. Ulric L. Trussell, and

WHEREAS, Many historic and romantic tales can be related as to those who have resided in the historic adobe, such as the story of Miss Sarah Winchester's brother, Dr. Robert Fulton Winchester, who came west as the personal physician of Colonel W. W. Hollister and who was a leader of two expeditions to Cocos Island in search of buried treasure; and

WHEREAS, The preservation of the Trussell-Winchester Adobe, made possible by the generosity of Catherine Bagg Hastings, is indeed a significant event. As was stated by the various speakers at the dedication of the adobe, it is important to preserve physical remembrances of the significant past that we in California are fortunate to have, and indeed such preservation becomes even more important as the State grows so rapidly and thereby so frequently destroys fascinating remnants of our past in the wake of its growth; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Members of the Senate pay tribute to the late Catherine Bagg Hastings for her generosity in making possible, in part, the preservation of this significant monument to the history of California and the West, and further, commend the Santa Barbara Historical Society and the others who have contributed to the successful preservation and restoration of the Trussell-Winchester Adobe as a landmark to our past; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to transmit suitably prepared copies of this resolution to Miss Maria Trussell, Mr. Rufus Trussell, Mr. Ulric L. Trussell, Mr. Edward E. Trussell, Mrs. Bernice Trussell Logue, and Mr. Sherman Bagg; and be it further

The following resolutions were offered:

By Senator Richards:

Senate Resolution No. 82

Relative to interim study of class interruptions in the public schools

WHEREAS, The improvement of public education is generally recognized as one of the central tasks of state government; and

WHEREAS, One effective technique of improving education can be summarized in the phrase "let the teachers teach"; and

WHEREAS, There is strong sentiment on the part of many citizens dedicated to the improvement of public education to utilize the schools and school buildings more fully and effectively; and

WHEREAS, Teachers are too often prevented from devoting their full time to teaching by a great variety of class interruptions, including the conducting of fund drives, the preparing and presentation of holiday programs, the holding of excessive numbers of assembly periods, and the circulating of students in and out of classes for many special purposes irrelevant to the actual education of the students; and

WHEREAS, All educators and citizens aware of the problem deplore these interruptions because of their adverse effect on the primary purpose of learning and because they prevent full utilization of the teaching staff and the school plant; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That this body finds that the problem of class interruptions in the schools is a proper subject for study by an appropriate interim committee to be designated by the Committee on Rules prior to the expiration of the 1959 Regular Session; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee's report to the Legislature at the 1961 Regular Session shall include consideration of the extent of the problem and the possibility of appropriate legislative action to remedy it.

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That this body finds that current practices respecting compensation of substitute teachers in the public schools is a proper subject of study by an appropriate interim committee to be designated by the Committee on Rules prior to the expiration of the 1959 Regular Session; and be it further

Resolved, That such study should include all aspects of the problems relating to the compensation of substitute teachers in the public schools; and be it further

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication was received and read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

5708 LINDENHURST AVENUE, LOS ANGELES
April 1, 1959

Members of the California Senate of 1958
Sacramento, California

HONORED SIRS: The kind and thoughtful tribute which you paid to my late beloved husband, James Wilfred McKinley, Jr., upon your adjournment on February 3, 1958, has touched me deeply.

My heart swells with pride and deep joy at this handsome expression of appreciation from the great body of eminent lawmakers who paid him this high compliment.

I shall prize it all my life and be proud to leave it, with other mementos of his public life and service, to our new Seamen's Center in San Pedro, where a library room has been dedicated in his honor.

The two terms that my husband spent in the State Legislature were in many ways the happiest and most rewarding years of his life. I only wish that his health had allowed him to serve there longer, for he had a deep and abiding confidence in our form of government and great pride in his own State.

With heartfelt appreciation, I am, Sirs,

Respectfully and gratefully yours,

SELINA INGRAM MCKINLEY

RECESS

At 3.50 p.m., on motion of Senator Farr, the Senate recessed for the purpose of introducing Umberto del Villar, the Governor of La Paz, Bolivia.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President appointed Senators Farr, Slattery, Burns, Murdy, and McBride as a Special Committee to escort Governor del Villar to the Rostrum.

INTRODUCTION OF GOVERNOR DEL VILLAR

Senator Farr introduced Governor del Villar to the Senate.

Governor del Villar addressed the Senate as follows:

Mr. President and Honorable Senators:

My special thanks to Lieutenant Governor Anderson for this honor and privilege to address this chamber and express my cordial appreciation for the technical assistance which the United States is extending to my country.

Bolivia is an underdeveloped country which has much wealth enclosed in a territory as large as Texas and California combined. For such a territory, ranging from tropics to 23,000 feet, there is a population of almost 4,000,000, engaged chiefly in agriculture and mining. Ethnically, 60 percent is Indian, descendants, not savage, from a civilization of 6,000 years before Christ. The balance of the population is half mixed and half white.

Thanks to the democratic government of my country, headed by Doctor Siles Zuago, graduate of the American Institute of La Paz, and the social and economic reforms effected, especially agricultural reform, which has incorporated more than 2,000,000 Indians, my country has had a great activity. The results of this policy are:

- 1) Increase of agricultural production by 100 percent.
- 2) Improvement of public education by erection of new schools, especially to educate the Indians. Seven years ago there were only about 300 schools for Indians and about 50 teachers. We now have about 6,000 schools and 2,000 teachers who speak Aymara and Quechua, languages of the Indians, to teach them Spanish.
- 3) Roads have improved considerably, with travel now the year around. Seven years ago it was difficult to drive during the rainy season.
- 4) Public health has improved, reducing infant mortality from 30 percent to 18 percent, as well as malaria, tuberculosis, and other epidemic illnesses.
- 5) Petroleum production has increased with intensive work on the part of the national petroleum agency in such a manner that in seven years we have changed from an oil importing country to an oil exporting country to nearby countries. To greater increase oil production we have opened the doors to foreign capital, giving all types of assurances and guarantees. Right now seven North American companies are working in Bolivia, including Gulf, Texas Petroleum, and Standard Oil.

The goal of my government is diversification of national economy, creating new sources of wealth to not depend only on mining.

In the development of all this improvement program, excepting petroleum, United States aid has contributed in a positive and concrete form through economic and technical assistance.

It is for this reason that upon addressing you, I, the governor of the chief state of my country, want to make it clear that the United States has given positive benefits to my country. The economic and social problem of my country is very difficult and complex, but we hope with the intensive effort of our people and understanding democratic aid to overcome this temporary crisis, to improve living conditions for my country and at the same time preserve respect for human dignity—the foundation of democracy.

Many thanks for your kind attention.

Senate Resolution No. 84

Relating to standard containers for fruits and vegetables

WHEREAS, The construction and dimensions of containers for fruits and vegetables is an important factor in the marketing of fruits and vegetables; and

WHEREAS, Modern marketing procedures require frequent changes in packing and packaging methods in order to meet the demands of receivers, distributors, retailers and consumers; and

WHEREAS, Chapter 2 (commencing at Section 781) of Division 5 of the Agricultural Code requires many of the fruits and vegetables regulated to be placed in standard containers with exact dimensions specified; and

WHEREAS, Several measures are now being considered by the Legislature proposing to change certain of the specified dimensions and to establish additional standard containers for such products; and

WHEREAS, Each of these measures generally affects only one particular commodity; and

WHEREAS, The Director of Agriculture presently has in certain instances specific authority under Section 790.5 of the Agricultural Code to establish on an emergency basis additional standard containers for fruits and vegetables; and

WHEREAS, The enactment of measures to change such container specifications during the present and many previous sessions of the Legislature has been in many instances extremely complicated, time-consuming, costly to the State and burdensome to the legislative process; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Joint Interim Committee on Agriculture and Livestock Problems is requested to conduct a study to determine whether it would be feasible and desirable to authorize the Director of Agriculture to establish under the Administrative Procedure Act (commencing at Section 11370 of the Government Code) regulations which would define the type of, and specifications for standard containers for fruits and vegetables, and to report thereon to the Legislature including its recommendations; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to transmit copies of this resolution to the chairman and to the members of the Joint Interim Committee on Agriculture and Livestock Problems.

Senate Resolution No. 59

Relating to courses of instruction for truck drivers

WHEREAS, The Senate Interim Committee on Transportation Problems has recently conducted an examination of many commercial vehicle drivers at the time a comprehensive inspection of their vehicles was made; and

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Members of the Senate request the Department of Education to investigate and study the feasibility of establishing a program of instruction in the operation and maintenance of commercial vehicles, the entire cost of which would be paid by the persons receiving the instruction, and to report the findings of the study to the Legislature not later than January 15, 1960; and be it further

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES
DIVISION OF BEACHES AND PARKS
SACRAMENTO, April 13, 1959

Secretary of the Senate
State Capitol, Sacramento

Russian River

DEAR SIR: Attached you will find a report compiled by the staff of the Division of Beaches and Parks, as authorized by Senate Resolution No. 141 of 1957.

The study analyzes the recreation possibilities along the Russian River from Healdsburg to Monte Rio and points out that there are two areas which conceivably might qualify as additions to the State Park System. This report was considered by the State Park Commission and adopted without recommendation, in view of the fiscal circumstances with which this division is faced at the present time.

Acquisition figures are very preliminary estimates and much additional study should be given to these areas to develop more accurate estimates of land development and operational costs. This information should be available prior to the writing of appropriative legislation, in the event the Legislature wishes to appropriate funds for this purpose.

Sincerely yours,

NEWTON B. DRURY, Chief

Encl.

Our Father, in suffering Thou hast made us one. We bring our prayers today for a mighty man of valor, sorely wounded in the performance of his duties, John Foster Dulles, a great Christian and a great American. Our hearts go out to him in the affliction that caused him to give up his work as our Secretary of State, a task to which he brought the "last full measure of devotion." In the words of Saint Paul, he has fought a good fight, he has finished the course, he has kept the faith. God bless him in this memory, along with the appreciation and affection of a great Nation; through Jesus Christ our Lord. AMEN.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF WATER RESOURCES

SACRAMENTO, April 17, 1959

*Hon. Joseph A. Beek, Secretary of the Senate
State Capitol, Sacramento, California*

DEAR MR. BEEK: I have the honor to transmit herewith for the information of the California State Senate, Department of Water Resources Bulletin No. 70, entitled "Orange County Land and Water Use Survey, 1957," dated January, 1959.

Orange County is experiencing a rapid growth in population and a corresponding transformation from an agricultural to an urban economy. The Department of Water Resources, under its responsibility to carry on continuing investigations of the water problems of the State, has analyzed the effect of this changing economy on Orange County's water requirements.

With Southern California's economy closely geared to available water supplies, inventories such as the one presented in this report are playing an increasingly important role. The data derived from this and other land and water use surveys are fundamental to determining the time when additional water supplies will be needed and the planning and construction of projects to assure the satisfaction of these water demands.

Sincerely,

HARVEY O. BANKS, Director

Attach.

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions were offered:

By Senator Thompson:

Senate Resolution No. 91

Relative to commending John Foster Dulles for his many years of outstanding service to the Nation

WHEREAS, The Senate of the State of California views with great sadness and regret the forced retirement, because of illness, of John Foster Dulles from his most important post as Secretary of State of the United States; and

WHEREAS, John Foster Dulles was born in Washington, D. C. on February 25, 1888, and, following his general collegiate education at Princeton University and legal education at George Washington University, began a career of the most extraordinary character which was to carry him to positions of the greatest trust and responsibility in the Government of the United States and in the councils of the leaders of the nations of the world, and has assured him a place in history among the great men of America and of the world; and

WHEREAS, The life and career of John Foster Dulles is one marked by tremendous achievement and service in fields of human endeavor so numerous and diverse as to appear beyond the range of accomplishment by an individual man and includes work in the practice of law as a member of the distinguished New York law firm of Sullivan and Cromwell since 1911, trustee of the Bank of New York, chairman of the Rockefeller Foundation and the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, member of the New York State Banking Board, trustee of the Union Theological Seminary, secretary of the Hague Peace Conference in 1907, member of the second Pan-American Scientific Congress, special agent of the Department of State of the United States in Central America in 1917, captain and major in the United States Army in 1917-1918, assistant to the chairman of the War Trade Board in 1918, counsel to the American Commission to Negotiate Peace in 1918-1919, member of the Preparations Commission and Supreme Economic Council in 1919, legal advisor to the Polish plan of financial stabilization in 1927, American representative to the Berlin debt conferences in 1933, member of the United States delegation to the San Francisco Conference on World Organization in 1945, member of the United Nations General Assembly in 1946, 1947, and 1950, acting chairman of the United States delegation to the United Nations General Assembly in Paris in 1948, advisor to the Secretary of State at various councils of foreign ministers, interim United States Senator in 1949, consultant to the Secretary of State in 1950, special representative of the President of the United States to negotiate the Japanese Peace Treaty and the Australian, New Zealand, Philippine, and Japanese Security Treaties, noted writer and speaker on international affairs and author of the books "War, Peace and Change" (1939) and "War or Peace" (1950), and a variety of other activities so numerous as to defy adequate listing; and

WHEREAS, John Foster Dulles attained the pinnacle of his greatness in the service of his Country and of freedom-loving people throughout the world as Secretary of State of the United States, to which office he was appointed in 1952, and where he arose to become so singularly the leader and dominant figure of the forces dedicated to, and which have so successfully achieved, the maintenance of international peace and the preservation of the personal rights, freedoms and dignity with which man is by nature endowed, in a period when, to an extent never before paralleled in history, the free world was confronted with the imminent threat of enslavement by powers ruthlessly bent upon attaining those ends and armed with weapons capable of the destruction of civilization itself; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California. That that body by this resolution expresses its most profound regret that this great American statesman has been compelled to voluntarily relinquish his post of Secretary of State of the United States, and extends to him its commendation and thanks for his outstanding work on behalf of his Country and freedom loving peoples everywhere, and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to transmit a suitably prepared copy of this resolution to John Foster Dulles.

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communications were received and read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE
STATE CAPITOL, SACRAMENTO, April 17, 1959

*Mr. J. A. Beek, Secretary of the Senate
State Capitol, Sacramento, California*

DEAR MR. BEEK: Knowing your special interest in the litigation which has recently been filed against me by the State Board of Education in connection with the budgetary restriction imposed by the Legislature on the printing of certain textbooks, I am taking the liberty of handing you a copy of the brief just filed by me in the Supreme Court of California.

In view of the fact that the Attorney General is representing the State Board of Education, and in pursuance of my firm intention to vigorously defend the legislative control over appropriations, I have employed special counsel of distinct ability, Mr. Macklin Fleming of Los Angeles. His fee for handling this matter will be $2,500, which I consider to be a very reasonable charge.

In my opinion the question involved is not without difficulty from a legal aspect, but I anticipate a successful outcome. Even if the precise method of limitation of the appropriation used by the Legislature in this case is not upheld by the court, the opinion should clarify the problem and chart the future course by which the Legislature may retain its fiscal control in this area.

Yours very truly,

BERT W. LEVIT, Director of Finance

CITY OF LAKEWOOD, April 8, 1959

*The Honorable President of the Senate
State Capitol Building, Sacramento, California*

MY DEAR SIR: Pursuant to direction by the members of the City Council of the City of Lakewood at an adjourned regular meeting of April 7, 1959, we are sending you a certified copy of Resolution No. 847: "A resolution of the City Council of the City of Lakewood opposing passage of Assembly Bill No. 286 or any other statute which would authorize or encourage the use of domestic water supply reservoirs for recreational purposes." Said resolution was adopted with three councilmen out of five voting "aye".

The action to oppose Assembly Bill 286 seemed to be dictated by a feeling that while a limited use of the domestic water supply reservoirs for limited recreational purposes might be favored they could not wholeheartedly support a measure which would apparently allow unlimited recreational activities in and upon these facilities.

Yours very truly,

JO BENNITT, City Clerk
City of Lakewood

By Senators Thompson and Erhart:

Senate Resolution No. 91

Relative to commending John Foster Dulles for his many years of outstanding service to the Nation

WHEREAS, The Senate of the State of California views with great sadness and regret the forced retirement, because of illness, of John Foster Dulles from his most important post as Secretary of State of the United States; and

WHEREAS, John Foster Dulles was born in Washington, D. C. on February 25, 1888, and, following his general collegiate education at Princeton University and legal education at George Washington University, began a career of the most extraordinary character which was to carry him to positions of the greatest trust and responsibility in the Government of the United States and in the councils of the leaders of the nations of the world, and has assured him a place in history among the great men of America and of the world; and

WHEREAS, The life and career of John Foster Dulles is one marked by tremendous achievement and service in fields of human endeavor so numerous and diverse as to appear beyond the range of accomplishment by an individual man and includes work in the practice of law as a member of the distinguished New York law firm of Sullivan and Cromwell since 1921, trustee of the Bank of New York, chairman of the Rockefeller Foundation and the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, member of the New York State Banking Board, trustee of the Union Theological Seminary, secretary of the Hague Peace Conference in 1907, member of the second Pan-American Scientific Congress, special agent of the Department of State of the United States in Central America in 1917, captain and major in the United States Army in 1917-1918, assistant to the chairman of the War Trade Board in 1918, counsel to the American Commission to Negotiate Peace in 1918-1919, member of the Preparations Commission and Supreme Economic Council in 1919, legal advisor to the Polish plan of financial stabilization in 1927, American representative to the Berlin debt conferences in 1933, member of the United States delegation to the San Francisco Conference on World Organization in 1945, member of the United Nations General Assembly in 1946, 1947, and 1950, acting chairman of the United States delegation to the United Nations General Assembly in Paris in 1948, advisor to the Secretary of State at various councils of foreign ministers, interim United States Senator in 1949, consultant to the Secretary of State in 1950, special representative of the President of the United States to negotiate the Japanese Peace Treaty and the Australian, New Zealand, Philippine, and Japanese Security Treaties, noted writer and speaker on international affairs and author of the books "War, Peace and Change" (1939) and "War or Peace" (1956), and a variety of other activities so numerous as to defy adequate listing; and

WHEREAS, John Foster Dulles attained the pinnacle of his greatness in the service of his Country and of freedom-loving people throughout the world as Secretary of State of the United States, to which office he was appointed in [1952] 1953, and where he arose to become so singularly the leader and dominant figure of the forces dedicated to, and which have so successfully achieved, the maintenance of international peace and the preservation of the personal rights, freedoms and dignity with which man is by nature endowed, in a period when, to an extent never before paralleled in history, the free world was confronted with the imminent threat of enslavement by powers ruthlessly bent upon attaining those ends and armed with weapons capable of the destruction of civilization itself; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California. That that body by this resolution expresses its most profound regret that this great American statesman has been compelled to voluntarily relinquish his post of Secretary of State of the United States, and extends to him its commendation and thanks for his outstanding work on behalf of his Country and freedom-loving peoples everywhere; and be it further

Resolved. That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to transmit a suitably prepared copy of this resolution to John Foster Dulles.

PRAYER

By invitation of the President, the following prayer was offered by Rev. R. Wilbur Simmons, Chaplain of the Assembly, from the First Pioneer Congregational Church of Sacramento.

Eternal God, Thou hast reminded us that the past generation needs the present one, and "that they, without us, cannot be made perfect." This Senate needs the Assembly, admittedly, or not. Northern California needs Southern California, capital needs labor, industry needs agriculture, crowded cities need the countryside of mountains, lakes and beaches, nations need other friendly nations, a political party needs a counterpart, most of all, men need Thee, O God. One cannot be lifted at the expense of the other; one is strong as all are strong. Help us to stand together, lest we fall separately. AMEN.

Loving Father, we humble ourselves before Thee this morning, for we know that unless we do we will be more concerned with our personal desires than we are for the welfare of all the people of our great State. Take from us, we pray, all selfishness, any desire for the power to dictate rather than to serve, and any unwillingness to co-operate in the task of building a better life for all our people. Let differences of opinion be resolved by sober evaluation and judgment. Forgive us our sins and weaknesses, that our spirits may be attuned unto Thy will. In all the deliberations of this day wilt Thou be our guide, and to Thee will we give the honor and the glory. AMEN.

SEC. 210. The purpose of this act is to form the Guadalupe Valley Municipal Improvement District in order that the area benefited may be provided with various municipal improvements; special facts and circumstances, applicable to the general area within which the district lies and not generally, make the accomplishment of this purpose impossible under existing general laws and therefore special legislation is necessary. The special facts are as follows:

(a) The area has no facilities for the treatment and disposal of sewage and is consequently contaminating the waters of the State.

(b) The area is without an adequate water supply, storage, and distribution system for public and private purposes.

(c) There is urgent need for the municipal improvements which the district is empowered to construct under this act, but other municipal powers which could be exercised by a city are not required, and would result in more government than the area needs or wants. There are no existing general laws under which the area could be provided with the facilities it needs short of incorporation as a city. Therefore, the only way in which the particular needs of the area can be provided is by special act.

(d) The land in the district is not owned by residents. The owners are the ones primarily concerned with the district and the ones who will be supporting the district and not future resident nonowners. The owners should therefore hold the voting power. Since no general law district with the necessary powers provides for voting by owners, special legislation is necessary.

(e) The area is of strategic importance during times of war or threatened war. It is strategically located between metropolitan San Francisco and the San Francisco International Airport, and immediately adjacent to the South San Francisco and Bayshore industrial complex. Influx of military men and their families during times of war or threatened war greatly increases the necessity of providing municipal facilities."

Amendment No. 8

On page 13, line 42, of the printed bill, after the period, insert "The aggregate taxes levied for any one fiscal year, other than those levied to pay the principal and interest on bonds, shall not exceed five dollars ($5) on each one hundred dollars ($100) of the assessed valuation of taxable real and personal property in the district."

Amendment No. 9

On page 8 of the printed bill, between lines 14 and 15, insert "Sec. 81.5. Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 79 and 80 of this act, the district shall not, through the exercise of eminent domain or otherwise, acquire property located outside the district boundaries without first obtaining the consent of the board of supervisors of the county in which the property to be acquired is located."

Amendment No. 10

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
STATE CAPITOL, SACRAMENTO, April 24, 1959

Hon. Hugh P. Donnelly
Senate Chamber

Public Utility Rates—No. 13445

DEAR SENATOR DONNELLY: You have referred us to Senate Bill No. 1006 which would delete a portion of Section 1066 of the Public Utilities Code relating to the establishment of rates of highway common carriers or petroleum irregular route carriers.

The portion of Section 1066 which the bill would delete provides that without the express approval of the Public Utilities Commission no through route or joint, through, combination or proportional rate shall be established by one highway common carrier, or petroleum irregular route carrier, between any point or points which it serves, on the one hand, and any point or points served by another such carrier, on the other hand.

In connection with this deletion you have asked whether it would affect the authority of the Public Utilities Commission to regulate rates of highway common carriers or petroleum irregular route carriers.

We do not believe it would.

Highway common carriers and petroleum irregular route carriers are common carriers (Sec. 211, P. U. C.). Common carriers are public utilities (Sec. 216, P. U. C.). The Public Utilities Commission has broad authority to investigate rates of any public utility and to establish such rates (Sec. 729, P. U. C.). The commission is required to determine and fix the just, reasonable, and sufficient rates for services by common carriers, and whenever two or more common carriers are furnishing services in competition with each other, the commission may, when necessary for the preservation of adequate service and when public interest demands, prescribe uniform rates for all such common carriers (Sec. 730, P. U. C.).

In addition, with respect to joint rates, it is provided that whenever the commission finds that the rates in force over two or more common carriers, between any two points in the State, are unjust, unreasonable or excessive, or that no satisfactory through route or joint rate exists between such points, and that the public convenience and necessity demand the establishment of such a through route and joint rate, the commission may order such common carriers to establish such through route and may fix a joint rate to be charged (Sec. 732, P. U. C.).

Moreover, the Constitution itself provides that no railroad or other transportation company may raise rates for the transportation of freight or passengers or any charge in connection therewith, under any circumstances whatsoever, except upon a showing before the Public Utilities Commission that such increase is justified (Art. XII, Sec. 20, Cal. Const.). This requirement has been extended by statute to apply to all public utilities (Sec. 454, P. U. C.).

It follows, in our opinion, that the bill in question would not affect the authority of the Public Utilities Commission to regulate the rates of highway common carriers or petroleum irregular route carriers.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS
Legislative Counsel
By ROBERT G. HINSHAW
Deputy Legislative Counsel

Two copies to Hon. Richard J. Dolwig

Relative to the solving of the water problems of the East Bay area

WHEREAS, The increasing population and the rapidly expanding economy of the East Bay area of the State require additional water supplies to meet its needs; and

WHEREAS, The East Bay Municipal Utility District, a public service agency, had for years made plans for the transport of these needed water supplies from the watershed of the Mokelumne River within the Counties of Amador and Calaveras, and had requested the State of California to assign to it certain state filings on these water; and

WHEREAS, In their best judgment and in the interests of their citizens, these counties and the County of San Joaquin engaged in litigation to forestall the assignment of state filings to the East Bay Municipal Utility District until such time as the counties could be assured that the interests of their citizens and their own economies were properly and adequately protected; and

WHEREAS, By mutual agreement the East Bay Municipal Utility District and the counties have provided that the East Bay Municipal Utility District grant to the Counties of Amador and Calaveras each the sum of two million dollars to be used for the future development of water supplies in these counties, and the state reserve to these two counties certain amounts of water for the beneficial use within these counties, and has assured the County of San Joaquin an adequate supply of water; and

WHEREAS, As a result of this mutual agreement, the counties have dismissed their litigation, thus enabling the East Bay Municipal Utility District to proceed with its plan for meeting the needs of the communities it serves; and

WHEREAS, The State Director of Water Resources at all times extended his advice and co-operation to all parties and approved the agreement which was reached; and

WHEREAS, The arrangement meets the needs of the counties of origin as well as those of the area needing an additional water supply without recourse to legislation or the use of state funds or credit, thus establishing a pattern for mutual co-operation in the development and utilization of the State's water resources; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Counties of Amador, Calaveras and San Joaquin, the East Bay Municipal Utility District and the State Director of Water Resources be commended for their diligence, patience and success in the settlement of the problem presented, and their great contribution to the public interest in making possible the development of these water resources to serve the needs of the counties wherein the water originates and those essential to the further development of the area served by the East Bay Municipal Utility District; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to transmit copies of this resolution to the Counties of Amador, Calaveras and San Joaquin, the East Bay Municipal Utility District and the Director of the State Department of Water Resources.

Resolution read, and referred to Committee on Rules.
